FORMER MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

A Statement of Purpose

Former Members of Congress is a bi-partisan, non-profit organization which has been established to promote the cause of good government at the national level by strengthening the United States Congress as an institution.

FMC seeks to develop among the people of the United States a better understanding of and interest in our system of government and its institutions.

Its primary focus is research and education, and it is dedicated to wider national utilization of former Members of Congress as a major public resource.

FMC, when requested, will provide technical assistance to make available to Congress the experience of former Members.

It will serve as an "alumni" association for former Members, better enabling them to preserve the fellowship and friendships developed while in the Congress.

FMC, as an organization, will not take positions on any public issue, lobby for or against specific legislation, or engage in political or partisan activity. Every member, of course, will be free to do so. Membership will be suspended if a member seeks re-election to the Congress, and terminated if elected and sworn in.

History of

FORMER MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

FMC was formed in February 1970 by a group of 52 former Members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives who gathered in response to an invitation from Brooks Hays and Walter H. Judd. This meeting was an outgrowth of an earlier meeting in December 1969 attended by seven former Congressmen, H. Carl Andersen, Frank Chelf, Robert Hale, Brooks Hays, W. Pat Jennings, Walter H. Judd and J. T. Rutherford.

Mr. Hays initiated the proposal for such an organization because of a long-felt belief that former Members were an under-utilized resource of great potential value for our country. The need to make better use of this resource has been recognized by many in the Congress and in the academic world.

Following this first meeting, a questionnaire was circulated to those former Members whose addresses were readily available to determine their interest in forming an association with their former colleagues for non-political and non-partisan purposes. In a nearly unanimous response, there was great support for the formation of such an association. In nine months over 300 joined as Charter Members.

FORMER MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

Current and Planned Programs

- Holding periodic meetings of the membership for fellowship, to conduct the business of the organization, and to receive domestic and foreign policy briefings on matters of public importance.
- Preparing oral histories of former Members of Congress, developing an important record of the national decision-making process that is often neglected or overlooked.
- Providing suitable recognition of past service for former Members through the issuance of Identification Cards, Citations of Service, and Pins.
- Providing office space on Capitol Hill which can also be used as headquarters for members when visiting in Washington.
- Cooperating with George Washington University in the establishment of a Center for study of the legislative process, enabling former Members to serve as visiting lecturers, and students from across the country to study the Congress first-hand for academic credit.
- Assisting colleges in other States to establish similar centers and to utilize to maximum advantage the knowledge and legislative experience and expertise of former Members of the Congress living in those States or areas.

Rapallo Chapter
New York University

December, 1970

Dear Brother Alumnus:

As you may have read recently, the Rapallo Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, International, at New York University Law School was very successfully reactivated on April 29, 1970.

The members initiated on April 29, and the second-year students joining this semester, represent solid legal talent, trained in a truly national law school. Several of our members have expressed a strong interest in working in your geographical area.

Please let us know the following information about your practice: The type of work in which your law firm specializes, your need for new Associates and program for Summer Clerkships, and the probable salaries for these positions. In return our Chapter Placement Committee will gladly assist you by supplying resumes and any other information you may deem necessary.

The requested information should be sent to:

Mark F. Werblood
Chairman of Placement Committee
Rapallo Chapter
Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, International
2500D Johnson Avenue
Bronx, New York 10463

Thank you so much for your cooperation.

Fraternally,

Mark F. Werblood
