MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: H. R. HALDEMAN
FROM: JOHN DEAN
SUBJECT: Requirements of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971

This is to call to your attention the provisions of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971 (which became effective on April 7) that require every Presidential candidate to file with the Comptroller General a detailed report of contributions received and expenditures made. These reports are required four times a year and also on the 15th and 5th days preceding the date of any election, primary election or convention in which the candidate is running. Negative reports must be filed if the candidate neither receives contributions nor makes expenditures during the reporting period.

To comply with the Act in the easiest manner and to assure that no technical problems arise in this still unsettled area of the law, it is recommended that you not personally accept any contributions or make any personal expenditures. If this procedure is followed, all of the numerous reports that you must file will be negative reports. Given the fact that these reports will be publicly scrutinized, you may wish to give some consideration at some time during the campaign to having the record indicate that you have expended some of your personal funds in the re-election campaign.

The new law further requires that each report be signed personally by the candidate and verified by a notary public. The Comptroller General has ruled that the candidate cannot authorize anyone to sign the report for him. Therefore, we will be sending each of these negative reports to you as they become due and suggest that Rose Woods notarize them.

There may also be certain state disclosure reports requiring personal signature. A list is currently being compiled and, at the appropriate time, the necessary state forms will be sent to you in the same manner as the federal forms.

NOTE: When the Congress realizes the enormous amount of paper work they have created for themselves -- as well as for Presidential campaigns -- they may very well ask themselves what in the hell they've done, and seek legislative relief!

DETERMINED TO BE AN ADMINISTRATIVE MARKING
E.O. 12056, Section 6-102
BY RAN NARS, Date 8-25-82
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

January 21, 1972

TO ATTORNEY GENERAL JOHN MITCHELL
FROM HARRY FLEMMING
SUBJECT PRIMARY RACES

The following is a recommendation of the strategy that we should follow in the 20 states conducting primaries in 1972. For reasons of affidavit or tradition, we have committed the President to enter the following:

NEW HAMPSHIRE	March 7
FLORIDA	March 14
WISCONSIN	April 4
TENNESSEE	May 4
NEBRASKA	May 9
MARYLAND	May 16
OREGON	May 23

There are four states which have Presidential Preference Primaries that directly affect the commitment of the delegates elected. They are:

INDIANA	May 2
---------	-------

Results of the preferential primary are binding on delegates for the first ballot.

NORTH CAROLINA	May 6
----------------	-------

The effects of the preferential primary are binding on the delegates for the first ballot. Further, any candidate receiving 15% or more of the state's primary vote receives a proportionate share of the delegates.

NEW MEXICO	June 6

The effect of the preferential primary is binding on the delegates for the first ballot. Delegates shall be allotted to the two top candidates in proportion to the vote they received in the primary.

SOUTH DAKOTA

June 6

The effect of the preferential primary has been construed in the past to bind the delegates for three ballots. However, the recent Attorney General's opinion seems to indicate that this is a moral obligation only (this could make an interesting fight at the convention).

RECOMMENDATION --- That we initiate a program for these states and enter these primaries.

Five states elect pledged delegates slates. They are:

RHODE ISLAND	April 11
MASSACHUSETTS	April 25
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA	May 2
OHIO	May 2
CALIFORNIA	June 6

RECOMMENDATION -- That we work closely with each of these state organizations, carefully select the delegates and that the President sign off in the appropriate manner so as to guarantee pledged delegates from these states.

Three states conduct primaries which are purely advisory and have no binding effect on the delegates to the National Convention. They are:

ILLINOIS	March 21
PENNSYLVANIA	April 25
WEST VIRGINIA	May 9

RECOMMENDATION -- That we do not enter any of these states, as it would involve an unnecessary expense on our part with no real benefit resulting.

March 31, 1972

Dear Mr. President:

For your guidance and information, I am enclosing copies of our regulations under both Title I and Title III of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as well as copies of the registration and reporting forms.

As you know, political committees supporting candidates for the office of President and Vice President are required to file a completed registration form with the Comptroller General on or before April 17 (10 days after the effective date of the Act). In addition, such committees and the candidates themselves are required to make periodic and pre-election reports of receipts and expenditures at specified times.

To assist us in making a proper distribution of the forms and regulations, as we are required to do under the Act, we shall very much appreciate your furnishing us with as complete a list as possible of political committees supporting your candidacy. Our Office of Federal Elections will supply the reporting materials direct to the committees and they may reorder supplies as needed.

Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Comptroller General of the United States

Dear Mr. Thompson:

In accordance with 11CFR 20.9 and the provisions of the booklet Questions and Answers published by the Office of Federal Elections of the General Accounting Office, I herewith submit questions pertaining to the requirements of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971. Interpretive rulings by the Comptroller General responsive to these questions would be appreciated at the earliest possible date so that we can comply to the fullest extent necessary with this new act.

1. Does the definition of "election" in Section 301 (a) (2) of the Act also include a state convention or caucus held to select delegates to a national convention, in spite of its explicit limitation to conventions or caucuses held to "nominate a candidate", and require the filing of pre-election reports for such state conventions or caucuses held to select delegates?

2. Do pre-election reports for primaries by candidates for nomination for election to the Office of President cover only expenditures and contributions and other such items required by Section 304 (b) directly related to the primary for which the report is filed or should the pre-election reports for primaries cover any expenditure made or contribution received by the candidate anywhere (even in other primaries for which reports are not yet due) in support of his campaign for nomination for election?

3. If the pre-election reports for primaries by candidates for nomination for election to the Office of President cover only items directly relating to the state primary for which the filing is made, must a candidate file a quarterly report for each state that has already held a primary in which he was a candidate if the quarterly report falls due before the national convention is held?

4. If the answer to question 3 is yes, must the candidate also file separate state quarterly reports after the national convention is held, but before the general election? In other words, how long is a candidate for Presidential nomination required to continue to file reports relating to states after the holding of the primary?

5. If separate reports for each state holding a primary are required, is a candidate for nomination for election to the Office of President also required to file a single comprehensive quarterly report covering all expenditures and contributions in every state where expenditures were made or contributions received, including those states which do not hold primaries?

6. For pre-election reports before a general election for President and quarterly reports after the national convention, does the reporting period for the candidate begin at the date that the candidate was nominated at the convention?

7. If the answer to question 6 is yes, is any report required from a candidate for election to the Office of President or any other candidate for nomination for election to that office which covers the period between twelve days before the convention and the date that the convention nominates a candidate?

Your assistance in this matter is appreciated.

Sincerely,

Glenn Sedam
