MEMORANDUM

TO: Bob Haldeman

FROM: RN

The enclosed article from the January 2 Los Angeles Times is a pretty good analysis of Hickel's strengths and weaknesses.

Would you give a copy of this to Harlow and also to Mitchell. I again suggest that some effort should be made to put a good strong PR type who knows Washington with him at the earliest possible time. He can be an asset if he gets some good advice.

MEMORANDUM FOR: MR. KLEIN

It is suggested that there is a need for developing a closer identity with Buckley. It is not possible, of course, for the President to take any further steps, although there is strong urging from New York that he openly endorse Buckley, which he cannot do.

The suggestion is made that you could go in to New York, get on a television program, and endorse Buckley at that time your self on a personal basis.

You could say that the President, of course, as party leader, cannot go against his party, but I, Herb Klein, would have to say that if I had a choice and were voting in New York and felt I wanted to help the President, I would certainly cast my vote for Buckley.

You would have to state this as your personal view, and it is strongly felt that it would be a good idea for you to do so.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

I have been asked to draft a letter which would be sent by me to each member of the Board of Trustees of Smith College. Because of the personal nature of it, I would appreciate it if you would go over it and change it in any way you desire before I send it out.

The draft and list of Trustees is attached.

Draft Letter to Board of Trustees, Smith College

Dear Mr. Bixler:

I am sure that as a trustee of Smith College, you have had inquiries regarding the decision of Mrs. Julie Eisenhower not to attend her graduation on May 31. I thought you would want to know the feelings shared by the President and Mrs. Nixon and Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower on this subject. As you might assume, their concern was such that they have had a number of family discussions regarding what would be best for Smith College and members of this graduating class.

The family feels very strongly that graduation day should not become a political occasion; it belongs to the graduates and their families. I know from personal discussion with Julie and David Eisenhower that both would have liked very much to have attended the graduation they looked forward to for so long. Recalling the incident when the President visited the college on January 9, they are mindful of the probability that some might choose to demonstrate if they are present at the graduation on May 31, and thus would disrupt the ceremony for the college and its students.

Mrs. Eisenhower felt that this would be unfair to other members of the graduating class and to their families, many of whom she knows have sacrificed a great deal and traveled great distances for this day.

While the Eisenhowers will miss this occasion, they feel their decision will be in the best interests of the students and faculty of Smith College.

It is their hope that this decision will help make graduation day the special day it is meant to be for their classmates. In turn, I know the President and Mrs. Nixon plan to make this a special family day with Julie and David quietly.

As a personal friend of the family, I am writing to you so as to be certain that there should be no misunderstanding of this decision.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Herbert G. Klein

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT

FROM: HERBERT G. KLEIN

Everett Collier called to recall that in 1969 you said you wanted to bridge the transition in Texas so that Democrats would vote not only for a Republican candidate but for part of his ticket. He said you have bridged the gap in this election as your popularity was transformed into county courthouses votes for John Tower. He believes you have had a long range and significant impact on Texas. This was reflected additionally in the close race for governor.
