Dr. Robert Seamans, Secretary of the Air Force and 1967 Goddard Trophy Winner.
Mrs. Robert H. Goddard

He will then introduce you to the invited guests who will be situated in the semi-circle behind you.

Dr. Lee A. DuBridge
Dr. Thomas O. Paine, Acting Administrator NASA
Honorable Clinton P. Anderson, Chairman Senate Aeronautical

Honorable Margaret Chase Smith, ranking minority member of the Committee (did not attend)
Honorable George P. Miller, Chairman Science and Astronautics Committee
Honorable James G. Fulton, ranking minority member of the Committee

INVITED GUESTS CONTINUED:

Mr. William Hines, Vice President National Space Club
Mr. Joseph Ryan, Vice President National Space Club

At the conclusion of the introduction Mr. Murray will ask you to present the Robert H. Goddard Memorial Trophy to Captain James Lovell, U.S.N. who will receive it on behalf of the three Apollo 8 Astronauts. (Col. Frank Borman, U.S.A.F., and Lt. Col. William A. Anders, U.S.A.F., were precluded from attending by their duties in connection with the Apollo 9 mission).

The Goddard Trophy will be located on a small table directly in front of the single stand-up microphone which will be provided for your remarks.

The trophy, donated by Mrs. Robert H. Goddard, is a bust of Dr. Goddard which is given each year to the person or persons selected for great achievement to advance space flight programs contributing to United States leadership in Astronautics.

SCENARIO FOR GODDARD MEMORIAL TROPHY PRESENTATION CON'T:

In presenting the trophy it is suggested that you read the following citation:

In an epic journey man for the first time in December 1968 soared out of the earth gravitational field, flew unerringly into a close orbit of the moon, then back to a precise and safe landing. This historic voyage performed at times before the largest television audience in history, and open for coverage by the world's press reflects the utmost credit on the United States Space Program, Congress, NASA, and thousands of companies and employees in industry representing all these, the courageous, competent crew of Apollo 8.

Following the presentation of the Goddard Trophy you will ask Dr. Thomas O. Paine to step forward and make the announcement of his selection as Administrator of NASA. (Mrs. Paine will be present, but seated).

It is estimated that the presentation and announcement will take approximately 15 minutes.
