SUBJECT:

Jim Keogh's Letter

The President has asked that you note the following portions of a letter from Jim Reagh regarding his upcoming book:

--I have done one thing about arrangements for the book which I did not expect to do when I told you what I had in mind. You may recall that it was my intention to deal with a publisher other than Reader's Digest because of the possibility that the other media might dismiss the book on the grounds that the Digest is too biased toward you. However, after talking with some other publishers, I became seriously concerned that I would encounter real trouble in maintaining my own position against the doctrinaire liberal bias of their editors.

At Doubleday, Kenneth McCormick was all right but his principal editor is a classic New York Riberal establishment type who immediately started trying to tell me what kind of book he thought I should write. At Putnam's I got the impression that what they really wanted was an exercise in apostasy.

So, in the end, I reached an agreement with Hobe Lewis and his people, with whom I feel confident about getting what I want to say published. The book will bear a Reader's Digest Press credit but will actually be published and distributed as a joint venture with one of the big publishing houses and will also carry that firm's label. --
