TELEPHONE CALL

(Suggested by Bud Wilkinson)

Wilkinson
Bud called rmw and said:

"Raymond Gary, our former Governor, has not come out publicly for Nixon even though he is supporting him.

"RN talked to him prior to the convention a couple of times. I feel that a phone call to him now asking how things are going -- about the Wallace situation, etc. would be good. I think RN should suggest that this would be a great time to come out publicly.

memo to Robert Haldeman

From Buchanan

Not all press are hostile. Last night when we delivered the NATO statement I had a talk with J. TerHorst who seems to be an active collaborator in the Nixon cause. Extremely bright. He said that RN might well win the support of the Detroit News for which he works by a properly timed phone call to Peter Clark the President----as well as to Marlin Hayden. Clark is a young guy of thirty six or so, extremely sharp. They have been for Lyndon but Terhosrt says they would be extremely receptive to an RN phone cal.;. Suggest calling both when they are in the area. I have a copy of Clark's speech to a graduating class of which he is quite proud, which I might draft of note of praise for from PN--- very briefing saying RN had been given it by an aid, and RN might borrow some lines or ideas from it. You might mention to RN about Terhorst that we seem to have found one just man in Gomorrah.

News Summary -- Monday, September 30, 1968

Scripps-Howard newspapers today endorsed RN for President.

An editorial in one of the 17 newspapers in the group says: "We see no other real choice in 1968 than Nixon." Scripps-Howard papers endorsed LBJ for re-election in 1964.

They had supported Nixon over JFK in 1960 and Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956. Editorial continues: "The country is beset ... by crime and disorder and because of these things, woeful injustices. Only Richard Nixon can bring a change in orderly fashion."

Dear Mr. McClary:

As on occasions in the past I am assisting President-elect Nixon with his schedule. I wish to acknowledge your kind invitation of October 24th, via Rose Mary Woods, to attend the NSE Convention in Cleveland in May.

I wish I were writing to say he could definitely accept, but for the time being it will have to be kept on a pending basis. You can be sure we will be back in touch with you if there is any possibility that President-elect Nixon can be with you for your Annual Convention.

I know President-elect Nixon would want me to thank you for your kind invitation.

October 24, 1968

Miss Rose Mary Woods
Secretary to Mr. Nixon
445 Park Avenue
New York, New York

Dear Rose Mary:

Knowing you are "swamped" these days and traveling on the airplane constantly, I apologize for taking any of your time. I decided to do it, however, because of the importance of what's on my mind.

You will remember the great experience when both Pat and Dick came to the closing banquet of the annual convention of National Sales Executives in Buffalo in May, 1960. I was President then and introduced Dick with the prediction that were the NSE convention taking place a year later, it would be my pleasure and duty to simply say, "Ladies and Gentlemen, The President of The United States."

Ever since, among those who know of my friendship with Dick, it is suggested that "your prediction was accurate, but you were eight years early!"

I am not as sophisticated in the ways of politics as some, but from the exposure I do have with varied segments of people, there is no question that we're on the way to a resounding victory. Consequently, would you tuck away somewhere, my early plea for President Nixon to be with us again for the Annual Convention of NSE, now re-named "Sales and Marketing Executives."

The dates are May 11-12-13-14, 1969 in Cleveland, Ohio. We will make the program flexible to fit the convenience of the

October 24, 1968

President. His presence at the opening session Sunday evening, May 11; the kick-off of the program Monday morning, May 12; any one of the noon luncheons; or any dinner would be tremendous, and we would build around it. The President of SME this year is W. W. Clements, Executive Vice President of Dr. Pepper in Dallas. I would chair whatever session President Nixon could attend, and we'd have a great time harking back to the night in Buffalo.

Sales executives of the key business organizations throughout the country are solid Nixon supporters and constitute an excellent platform from which a new President of the United States can project a major message. Cleveland is easily and quickly reached from Washington and the dates are flexible.

Would you please pass this along to Mr. Nixon at some opportune time and give me the benefit of his, and your, reactions.

Thanks so much. We all are exerting every effort in the home stretch with complete confidence we will win. As I told Dick when he was here in Philadelphia just prior to the convention, my only apprehension was his getting tangled up in debates with HHH. He has handled this in superb fashion, and I am convinced he has him right where we want him!

Very best personal regards.

Dear Mr. Barker:

As on occasions in the past, Mr. Nixon has asked me to assist with his very busy schedule. In this connection I have your letter of July 23rd inviting Mr. Nixon to address the Radio Television News Directors Association Convention in Los Angeles November 20-23, preferably the evening of November 23rd.

Mr. Nixon greatly appreciated receiving your kind invitation, and I wish this letter were bringing with it the news that he could definitely accept. However, for the time being it will be necessary for us to keep your invitation on a pending basis until we can work out a complete itinerary for Mr. Nixon's schedule after the election.

I know Mr. Nixon would want me to include with this letter his appreciation for your interest in having him, as well as to send you his best wishes.

Sincerely,

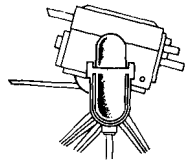

John C. Whitaker

Dear Mr. Nixon:

Peter O'Donnell has told me of his conversation with you concerning your addressing the Radio Television News Directors Association convention in late November. On behalf of RTNDA, I would like to formally invite you to address our convention. RTNDA will meet November 20-23 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles. The National Broadcast Editorial Conference, the editorial writers of the broadcasting media, will be meeting in conjunction with RTNDA.

I realize, of course, that at this early date you could not make a definite commitment to us; however, I would appreciate your keeping the invitation in mind. Assuming that you are successful in the general election, RTNDA would provide an excellent forum for any thoughts you might have on the role of the mass media in the years ahead. The RTNDA platform would be ideal for a major statement on any subject of your choice.

RTNDA would prefer to have you address our closing banquet the evening of Saturday, November 23, but would certainly welcome you at any time your schedule would permit.

I am taking the liberty of enclosing a brochure that sums up RTNDA and will give you some idea of the organization and its activities.

Sincerely,

EB:jd

P.S. I enjoyed the opportunity to visit with you at the Times-Herald on your recent Dallas visit.

The Radio Television News Directors Association is made up of more than a thousand professionals whose purpose is to improve performance in all aspects of broadcast news.

They are the people—network news officers and news directors of the best station news operations in U. S., Canada and elsewhere—who find that this professional organization most effectively forwards their purpose: to provide the public with information and understanding to allow all citizens to take part effectively in an increasingly complex society.

Although established more than twenty-five years ago when public affairs was becoming an important matter for wider public understanding, the association has grown greatly and earned a position as accepted spokesman for the profession in recent years.

■ Supporting Activities—Annual Conference

The next Conference of RTNDA in Los Angeles will be the 22nd international session of newsmen to gather for a series of workshops and discussion sessions. The November meeting follows U. S. elections for which RTNDA members will provide hundreds of programs of discussion and interpretation as well as "hard news" campaign coverage.

■ Regional Seminars

The Association is also sponsor of a series of spring regional seminars held at five convenient locations spotted around the U. S. RTNDA thus brings to members a series of nationally-recognized speakers and allows members to seek general solutions to their common problems. All broadcast newsmen, members or not, are welcomed at these seminars as RTNDA expresses its interest in making more professional the work of every radio and television news and public affairs operation.

■ European Contacts

In the fall of 1967 members of RTNDA met with news directors of major European continental broadcasting stations and supervisors of European networks and program exchanges. The Association's general counsel, a noted Washington communications lawyer, instructed representatives of the European broadcasting union in American legal matters, and multi-language discussions, in simultaneous translation, were held to exchange ideas for better cooperation and mutual understanding between American and European newsmen.

■ Annual Awards

Among the most respected awards in news and public affairs broadcasting are the annual awards in three radio and television categories. One of the awards bears the name of Edward R. Murrow, longtime member of RTNDA, whose award honors the year's best work in documentaries.

The RTNDA awards are judged by professionals in the field chosen by major universities which supervise the judging. RTNDA is proud of the close relationships maintained with leading academic institutions and professionals as well as with working newsmen.

■ Conference on Editorials

The Association is one of the permanent sponsors of the National Broadcast Editorial Conference held each summer. The purpose of this Conference, as with others conducted by RTNDA, is to increase the public service qualities of the "product" aired for the public. The Editorial Conference is conducted for and by those who represent the best practice in properly researching and effectively airing editorial expressions of opinion—and those who wish to do increasingly good work.

■ Elected Spokesmen

The officers of RTNDA, those who speak for members at Congressional hearings and before other professional associations (such as bar associations), are all elected by the members. Directors for each region of the U. S. are elected by mail to allow every active member's expression of choice. Directors-at-large, the president and treasurer are elected at the Annual Conference.

These officers bring the weight of a national, recognized organization to bear when members seek assistance in legal matters, instances of needed opening of news sources and in providing information for appearances before private or public groups.

Every activity of the association is planned as a service to members of stations of every size.

■ The Code of Ethics

All members must subscribe to RTNDA's Code of Broadcast News Ethics. Copies appear on every application for membership blank. It requires members to act responsibly and professionally and pledges them to aid others, members or not, in achieving the Association's goals. A committee is appointed to act as "watchdog" in securing and maintaining code adherence.

■ The RTNDA Bulletin

The Association publishes the RTNDA BULLETIN magazine. It is supplied to members as part of the membership dues. (News directors pay $30 for active membership, other newsmen and teachers $6 for associate membership, persons in other professions or business may be privileged members at $50.)

The BULLETIN contains texts of major addresses made to RTNDA Annual Conferences and Regional Seminars as well as at the Editorial Conference. It contains news notes of members and runs series of articles on such matters as mobile unit operation and newsroom design.

RTNDA has published a handbook on newsfilm shooting and a booklet on broadcast news careers. Three volumes on newsfilm standards, newscast construction and newsroom planning have resulted from Regional Seminar programs.

■ Committees

Many committees operate for RTNDA. Among the most important are the Freedom of Information Committee, assisting members in news access and the Placement Committee which offers immediate assistance, both to individuals seeking positions and employers needing qualified news personnel.

RTNDA Foundation

The RTNDA Foundation was established by funds of the association voted by members and other contributions of individuals, corporations and foundations in 1967. Its resources will shortly provide the first of annual scholarships for college and university students studying broadcast journalism. Awards will be made by a committee of the association and noted teachers in the field.

Canadian Members

Two Annual Conferences have been held in Canada, and as in the U. S., a series of Regional Seminars is held annually. They are located so that large numbers can attend and deal with important and timely broadcast news problems.

More Information?

Addresses on the reverse can be used to learn more about RTNDA. Inquiries are most welcome from all serious newsmen.

Dear Dick:

I have been asked by President-elect Eddie Barker of the Radio-Television News Directors Association to invite you to speak to their Annual Conference to be held at the Beverly Hilton in Los Angeles, November 19 - 23. We discussed this in your suite in Atlanta, May 31, and you indicated you were receptive and asked that I write you a letter about it. I trust by now you have heard from them direct, and this is to support their invitation.

I understand this is the voice for radio-tv news directors throughout the United States and Canada. In my opinion, these news directors are extremely influential. I think it is unique that you could build goodwill in a critical area before the election by accepting a date after election day.

With best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. President:

Reference is made to my letter of October 29th addressed to Ray Bliss, copy of which is attached.

I am not unmindful of the fact that the vote in Alabama does not indicate strong support of the national ticket nor give us any call upon your time but I am convinced that the vacuum left by the Wallace effort gives us the best opportunity that we have had in many a year to reverse this condition. I noticed in the morning paper that Governor John Bell Williams has indicated an inclination toward the Republican Party and before George Wallace is able to pick himself off the floor and rebuild his empire I would like to see the Republican Party move decisively in this area.

I cannot express too strongly my belief that a visit from you to Mobile expressing your concern for the Southern problems and reiterating your desire to unite this part of the country with the rest of the country would give the Party the boost and the shot in the arm that it needs to move out decisively. I suggest the Mobile area because it would pull from Alabama, Mississippi and Florida and quite frankly it will be from this area that any ambitious Republican effort will be forthcoming to revitalize the State Party mechanism.

I enclose copy of the newspaper article pronouncing our obituary and a copy of our response. I likewise enclose copy of the letter to the Vice-President.

In these days right after the election we have had to evaluate President-elect Nixon's schedule for the time between now and the Inauguration.

I am sorry to say that it is not possible for President-elect Nixon to accept your kind invitation to attend the Independent Telephone Association Meeting in Miami between December 8th and 11th.

He has asked me, Lou, to keep his schedule clear because of the demanding job of transition between the two administrations.

Sincerely,

John C. Whitaker

Dear Lou:

As Mr. Nixon's scheduler, I have your note to Rose Mary Woods of September 23rd requesting that Mr. Nixon drop in at the Independent Telephone Association Meeting in Miami between December 8-11.

Mr. Nixon is not making any commitments beyond November fifth but you can be sure your invitation will be kept on a pending basis until he has a chance to look over the situation post-election.

I know Mr. Nixon would want me to include with this letter his appreciation for your interest in having him, as well as to send you his best wishes.

Sincerely,

John C. Whitaker

Dear Rose:

Our old friend Loren Berry has been in touch with Admiral Mott about the possibility of Dick's dropping in on the Independent Telephone Association Meeting in Miami on December 8, to the 11. They had previously invited him to be their Convention Speaker but it could never be worked out.

I told Bill Mott that obviously this was not the time to bring this up, but I would be glad to send his memorandum on to you so you could follow up on it after the election.

With every good wish.

Sincerely,

John

MEMORANDUM FOR LOU NICHOLS:

As you know, the members of our industry are supporters of Dick Nixon in every way we can be helpful. Loren Berry, for instance, has given unstintingly of his time, money and effort to help Dick. Here is an eighty year old man who after a prostate operation sat up in bed on the third day and said, "I have to get up out of this bed so I can help Dick get elected President." And he did.

Another great helper is Paul Hensoff, President of United Utilities, and virtually his entire Board of Directors. Les Warner, the President of General Telephone and Electronics, which operates in thirty-four states, is another great Nixon supporter, as are all of his regional presidents. John Brown Cook, the President of Whitney-Blake and Reliable Electric, is another, and I could name several hundred more. But you know all of these people having broken bread with them so many times.

We are hopeful, and are working to the end that Dick Nixon will be our next President. In the interregnum between his election and inauguration, it so happens that the United States Independent Telephone Association will be holding its annual convention in Miami Beach (December 8-11). We already have a commitment from Senator Howard Baker to address our first General Session on Monday, December 9. On Wednesday, December 11, we will have our wind-up session in the Ballroom at the Fontainebleau, a place incidentally where Dick Nixon has spoken many times. The only person we have on the program that day is one of America's great professional speakers, Bill Gove - also a Nixon supporter.

We would hope that Dick would give consideration to appearing at the General Session on Wednesday, but if it is more convenient for him to appear at the General Session on Monday afternoon or at a luncheon we are having at the Convention Center on Tuesday, we would not care. We also recognize that he doesn't need to have any prepared speech to talk to us. He'd be amongst friends and supporters.

Loren Berry will be in residence in Miami Beach at that time at the Surf Club and if Dick didn't want to stay in a suite at the Fontainebleau we could arrange for him to stay either at the Surf Club or at the Bath Club. On the other hand, I know he has his own friends and facilities in Miami Beach and he might just be down there relaxing at this time anyway. If he wants us to arrange a deep sea fishing trip for him, John Brown Cook happens to have fishing boats at his disposal.

We realize, Lou, this is a long shot but we have great affection for the President elect and we would like to have him enlist us in his army of helpers - helpers he will need to carry on his program when elected.

Dear Mr. Rowe:

I have your letter of October 9th addressed to Herb Klein asking Mr. Nixon to be at your luncheon on November 13, 14 or 15 in Oklahoma City. While I wish I were writing to accept on behalf of Mr. Nixon, I am afraid that I am not. Mr. Nixon is not accepting any speaking engagements subsequent to November 5th, at this time. However, I want you to know that we will place your invitation in the after November 5th pending file for review at that time.

I know that Mr. Nixon would want me to include his appreciation for your interest in his campaign as well as to send you his best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

John C. Whitaker

Dear Herb:

I have heard nothing from anyone on Mr. Nixon's staff in response to my August 29 invitation for him to speak before a luncheon November 13, 14 or 15 at our Oklahoma City convention.

Can you give me any idea what the chances are that Mr. Nixon will be able to join with us?

Dear Mr. Herrold:

As on occasions in the past, Mr. Nixon has asked me to assist with his very busy schedule. In this connection Bob Haldeman has turned over to me your letter to him of October 8th extending an invitation to Mr. Nixon to speak to the American Society of Magazine Editors.

Unfortunately, it will not be possible to accept your kind invitation before the election, and Mr. Nixon does not wish to make any commitments post-November 5 at this time. You can be sure, however, that your kind invitation for a luncheon meeting on November 18 or 20 will be kept in mind so that Mr. Nixon can evaluate the situation post-election.

I know Mr. Nixon would want me to include with this letter his appreciation for your interest in having him, as well as to send you his best wishes.

Sincerely,

John C. Whitaker

The Honorable Richard M. Nixon
450 Park Avenue
New York, New York 10022

Dear Mr. Nixon:

As a committee representing the membership of the American Society of Magazine Editors, we have the honor to invite you to address a meeting of the membership in New York City at a time convenient to you.

Of course, we would greatly appreciate the opportunity to hear you before Election Day but if, as we assume, your schedule is altogether filled between now and November 5, we would be most pleased to suggest a time soon after the election.

Our membership of 120 editors of all the important magazines in the United States would greatly profit from the opportunity to hear about your views and your plans after November and we believe that the occasion can be one of opportunity and pleasure to you. Soon after the election, magazines will be preparing their efforts to convey in detail their assessments of the major national and international issues and the plans and policies of the next President and his Administration. Your first-hand guidance could be of invaluable help to us as editors, to our millions of readers, and, we think it is fair to say, to the successful launching of a new administration.

The Honorable Richard M. Nixon

October 3, 1958

The meeting can be on the record or off the record, as you wish.
May we suggest for your consideration during these days for a luncheon meeting at the St. Regis Hotel, New York City: Thursday, November 18, Monday, November 19, or on Friday, November 20.

We earnestly hope that you find it possible to join us and to look on the meeting as an auspicious first occasion for discussing the programs and ideas that will carry America into the 1970's.

Dear Mr. Whitaker:

We appreciate your tentative acceptance for Mr. Nixon to speak to the American Society of Magazine Editors on November 18 or 20. We hope you will let us know at the earliest possible time after November 5 when Mr. Nixon has made a definite decision since we are holding reservations at the St. Regis for those dates.

Thank you very much for your assistance in this important task.
