

TELCON

John Lindsay/Secy Kissinger

7:10 p. m. , October 7, 1973

K: Hello, John.

L: Mayor Lindsay calling.

K: Yes, how are you?

L: I think that the Arab Ambassador here is hysterical.

K: (laughs) Not the Ambassador, it's the Foreign Minister.

L: Whoever it is that was calling.

K: He told me he didn't care about his life but the lives of so many innocent people.

L: Well, there's 6,000 people demonstrating. It is well under control. The action is all moved down to the courts because our police arrested a whole mess of people, both JDLs and Arabs. So the crowd has moved down to the Courthouse where they're all in the can at the moment. They're arrested anyway.

K: Okay.

L: We believe it is well under control. We've got almost 1,000 cops on. I'll be glad to send the bill for overtime to the State Department.

K: Oh, control your enthusiasm.

L: I think it's all right. If there's any developments that changes, I'll of course call you.

K: Many thanks.

L: I've been in touch with Scali and I've just got off the phone with Waldheim. So I think they're reasonably calm at the moment.

K: Many thanks.

L: And we'll be alert all through the night and all day tomorrow.

K: Good.

L: I'm supposed to be at a reception a little bit later tonight where you're supposed to be.

K: Oh, at Molly Parnis'.

L: Molly Parnis.

K: Yeah, I was going to be there but I had to come back to Washington because of this war.

L: Of course.

K: No, I'm sorry to miss you.

L: We'll look forward to seeing you again.

K: That would be nice.

L: I'll keep you posted.

K: Thank you. It was nice of you to come the other day.

L: I was delighted to be there. It was a lovely party.

K: Thank you.

L: Lots of luck to you.

K: Thank you.