

Dear Mandy,

6/17/2010

Thank you for telling and showing us all the information about the Nixon Library. It was very interesting and I learned many things.

I really enjoyed the elephant collection because I also like elephants, for me they are kind of a symbol of luck for me.

The limousine was also one of the highlights of The Nixon Library because it was big and it was a Lincoln. My dad has a Lincoln but it's a truck not really a limousine, but I still liked it.

I also enjoyed seeing the birthplace of Richard Nixon. The house is beautiful and even though we couldn't go up the stairs because it was kind of crowded but it was still beautiful and kept clean.

I also liked the resting place of Richard Nixon and his wife because it was covered in her rose garden which smelled wonderful.

The helicopter was nice because it had seats for everyone but I don't think the ashtrays were good because people should not smoke but otherwise it was very beautiful.

Sincerely,

Marisol
