Dear Mr. President,

I have just turned off the T.V. and looked at my wife and for the first time in 4 years, we both felt good.

I had worked hard against your election sir, but your sincerity and honesty prevailed and I believe you can do it. I never thought I'd write a President, let alone a Republican, yet this transcends office or party. This is America. You are America. God bless America. Thank you for being so real.

My wife and I are both 22 years old and just out of college. She is a teacher and I am still studying and we both have taken views against the war and both previously supported "peace" demonstrations. Both of us were coming to D.C. on Nov. 14TH for the march but after your speech we felt relieved and decided to let you march for us and all America on your path for peace. We will not go to D.C. We will vigorously support your "plan". We will be your "silent America" speaking for all Americans to write in the war for peace.

I must again say how much I was against you from 1956 when I didn't even know how to spell NIXON. Now I feel at ease. Now my faith has new channels in our country. Now I feel that my President represents my America and I'm damn proud to say that "I support the President and I support peace and I support America".

Thank you Mr. President. I have worried about our paths and now though you didn't say anything really new, we, my wife and I, do believe you are sincerely trying to achieve peace and we will do all we can by supporting you and your policy toward that goal. Our prayers are with you and our previous disillusionment has turned to enlightenment and hope.

You have radically turned two young Americans to determination and pride. Thank you. Good luck. God bless you.
