MEMORANDUM FOR: ALEX BUTTERFIELD
FROM: GORDON STRACHAN
SUBJECT: Telephone Call to Governor Walter Peterson

Pat Buchanan sent Mr. Haldeman a memo suggesting a telephone call by the President to New Hampshire Governor Peterson. With additional input from Dent and Fleming, I prepared the attached recommended telephone call form. If there is anything else you need, please advise.

Thank you.

GS:1m
RECOMMENDED TELEPHONE CALL

TO: Walter Peterson, Governor of New Hampshire

RECOMMENDED BY: Pat Buchanan, Harry Dent, and Harry Flemming

PURPOSE: To thank Governor Peterson for his letter to YAF rejecting the proclamation for "Free China Day"

BACKGROUND: There have been conflicting reports about whether Governor Peterson has been too friendly or merely civil to Pete McCloskey. Peterson's letter to YAF says: "I am a firm supporter of President Nixon, particularly in his efforts to achieve peace through a more realistic attitude toward the world's largest country." The Attorney General has selected Lane Dwinell to be Chairman of the New Hampshire Committee for the Re-Election of the President. The announcement will be made around November 1, 1971. Governor Peterson knows of Dwinell's selection. No letter has been sent.

TALKING POINTS:

1. Thank you for sending me a copy of your letter to Ron Docksai of YAF. I appreciate your support for my trip to Peking.

2. I understand Harry Flemming has been up to talk with you. What was your reaction to his efforts?

It was a pleasure to help you obtain Rep. Gerald Ford as the guest speaker at your fund raising dinner on October 14, 1971.

Thank you for sending me the tickets to join you at that dinner. Unfortunately, I will be unable to attend, but I do appreciate your thoughtfulness in sending them.

Looking forward to seeing you in the future, and best wishes for a successful evening.

Sincerely,

Dear Gordon:

It has been confirmed to me by Mrs. Roberston at Republican National Committee Headquarters that Rep. Gerald Ford has consented to be the guest speaker at our fund raising dinner on October 14, 1971.

I am, of course, entirely grateful to you for taking the time from your busy schedule in order to go to bat for me. Republicans here, including our County Chairman Dick Bolton, are delighted about having Rep. Ford.

The County Committee wishes to invite you and a guest of your choice to join us at the dinner. Accordingly, I am sending you, under separate cover, an invitation and two complimentary tickets. Please return the reservation card if you are able to be with us.

If there is ever anything I may be able to help you with, please feel free to call on me. I look forward to meeting you personally.

Sincerely yours,

Mario D. Belardino

MEMORANDUM FOR: PAT O’DONNELL
FROM: GORDON STRACHAN
SUBJECT: Speaking Request of October 14 - New York

August 9, 1971

Pursuant to our telephone conversation, would you please handle the attached request for a speaker at the Staten Island Republican event.

If you have any questions or need any further back up, feel free to call me if Belardino cannot supply the information you need.
August 5, 1971

Mr. Gordon Strachan
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Gordon:

Pursuant to your recent telephone conversation with Curt Herge, I am pleased to supply you with the details of the 1971 Annual Campaign Reception and Dinner sponsored by the Republican County Committee of Richmond County (Staten Island, New York).

This year the dinner will be held at Tavern-on-the-Green, Staten Island, New York on Thursday, October 14th, 1971. Dress will be black tie. Contributions will be $125 for "Gold" tickets and $100 for "Silver" tickets.

A reception for state and city Republican officials and other celebrities is scheduled for 6:30 P.M. and the dinner itself will commence at 8:00 P.M. Entertainment will feature strolling musicians and a well-known comedy team. There will be no dancing at this affair.

In 1970 the dinner honored Governor Nelson Rockefeller, and it drew over 350 contributors. Let me say, frankly, that although 1971 is not an exciting election year, the Republican Party faces a tough battle to unseat an incumbent Democratic District Attorney. If the guest speaker is of national prominence, we may be able to double the 1970 attendance. A prominent speaker would not only serve to dramatically increase attendance but also enhance greatly the chances of a Republican victory in the District Attorney race.
Now, some information concerning the Republican Party in Richmond County. The county leader is Richard Bolton. In 1971, Richmond County led all New York counties percentagewise in Republican votes cast. Richmond County was the only county within New York City that the Republicans carried during the 1968 Presidential election. The County is represented in the state legislature by two Republican Assemblymen and one Republican Senator (Sen. John Marchi).

It would be an invaluable boon for Republicans in Richmond to have as their guest, for example, the Vice President, the Attorney General, or the Chairman of the Republican National Committee. They can be guaranteed an ample audience and good press coverage.

There has been some discussion here to present an award to Mrs. Martha Mitchell as the Republican Woman of the Year. She would be an attractive and exciting speaker, and we would certainly be honored by her presence.

I want to extend my sincere appreciation to you for your cooperation and personal interest and, certainly, any assistance on your part in ensuring the success of the dinner will be remembered here.

Again, thank you.

Very truly yours,

Mario D. Belardino

MEMORANDUM FOR: DWIGHT CHAPIN
FROM: GORDON STRACHAN
SUBJECT: Documentary Film

In discussion with Clark MacGregor and Bill Timmons, Bob Haldeman talked about the type of documentary film on the President that should be done for Campaign '72. Haldeman envisions a "great moments of Nixon" documentary of the first three years. It would be sort of a movie version of Frank Leonard's inserts to Monday - both domestic and foreign. The word "Republican" would probably not be mentioned. There would be pictures of the wedding, with the President dancing with Tricia with the comment "for every night like this (social) there are 100 like this (switch to President studying in Lincoln room or EOB office.

At the end of the film there would be a picture of the President and Senatorial or Congressional candidate with the President recorded voice (no video tape) subject to the guidelines expressed in Bob Haldeman's October 6 memo to Dave Parker. The film would be 16 mm, with sound which could be duplicated for distribution to all the candidates receiving the President's endorsement.

Discussion with Mark Goode about some of the technical aspects developed the following:

1) The film would probably be 20 minutes long;
2) Dave Wolper, whom you, Carruthers, and Goode have talked to, might be the best;
3) The cost won't be too high because much of the footage is already available either to purchase from the wires or obtain from the Navy. You may have covered with Dean the complications of getting Navy film for a campaign.
4) Mark Goode would act as project manager.

MEMORANDUM FOR JOHN W. DEAN, III

FROM: JACK CAULFIELD

SUBJECT: EDWARD MC DANIEL

Ed is a longtime supporter of the President who, in the 1960 and 1968 campaigns, was hired to be the Nixon sound man at rallies on the campaign trail. Additionally, he is a highly competent radio feed technician and also performed in that area on the campaign trail.

Having been through the '68 Campaign, I can assure you that these two areas are vital. In my judgment, based upon his experience, Ed is the best in the country.

For reasons that are not clear, Ed has been completely shut out of any Republican party activity in this regard. He called today expressing both bitterness and disappointment at the developments.

I have reason to believe Bob Haldeman is very high on Ed's expertise. If I am correct, I suggest this matter should be brought to Bob's attention forthwith. Failure to do so may well cause us serious rally and radio communication problems during Campaign '72.

Please advise.

Attached are a couple of bumper stickers that came to me from a business associate. He picked them up from a representative of the Operating Engineers and tried to get as many as possible to take them out of circulation. The union apparently is pushing these "Nixon is thru in 72" pretty hard and seemed delighted that someone wanted as many as my friend took.

I thought you might be interested in this in case you had not seen it. Let me know if there is anything we can do in this regard.

Dear "Uncle John":

Kristine and I are really enjoying being "parents". Your niece, Lauren Rose, was born at two minutes of 9:00 a.m., Friday, October 15 (her scheduled "due date"). She weighed 6 lb. 15 oz. and was 19-1/2" long with red hair and blue eyes! Kristine and Lauren are both well. The whole experience has been an unbelievable high. Your parents are here with us for the week to help. Your Father is especially good at changing diapers. Your Mother fixes excellent meals. They are staying at the Watergate so are close by. John invited several here on the Staff to go swimming at the Hotel but, of course, we had to pass.

My tennis is ready for you. It is the most enjoyable sport in Washington. Kristine played up until the last few months of her pregnancy but decided to slow down for Lauren's sake!

The autumn leaves are scheduled to hit their peak this weekend. It is really a gorgeous time of the year here. After next month, though, it will be a long barren, cold winter.

I understand you have mastered navigation -- out of necessity. Good -- we'll need it for the '73 Transpac.

MEMORANDUM FOR DON RUNSFELD

The town of Randolph, Vermont, will have a Presidential primary on March 7, 1972, the same date as the New Hampshire primary.

There are approximately 2,000 registered voters in the town.

In the 1960 election, according to the New York Times, the vote was 1,208 for Nixon and 323 for Kennedy. In 1968 the vote was 899 for President Nixon and 414 for Humphrey. In 1964 the town went for Johnson, but I do not have the figures.

I am advised that McCloskey spent 8 hours there on July 17, the first Presidential aspirant since William Howard Taft went there in 1912, according to the Times.

Guy Catlin, the Republican town chairman, has said that he had a call from an unnamed White House aide who said a visit from President Nixon has "not been ruled out".

The Nixon daughters used to summer at nearby Roxbury, Vermont. Randolph is the home of Rowland Hughes, Eisenhower's budget director. I have family nearby.

The state chairman, Russ Merriman, is a good friend and would supply additional information, if requested.

MEMORANDUM FOR GORDON STRACHAN

Mr. Colson recommends that if you and Magruder are planning on doing a poll in New Hampshire, you should consider the Becker polling service. He knows the area well.

Becker's recent poll in Connecticut that appeared in the News Summary the morning of October 21 indicates some considerable improvement in Connecticut for the President in his trial heats. Mr. Colson has spoken to Becker and he feels that if one has not already been done, a poll in New Hampshire would be most appropriately done by Becker.

Dear Dud:

In case you hadn't heard --- Kristine and I are now "parents" and enjoying every minute of it! Lauren Rose was born at two minutes of nine on the morning of Friday, October 15th (the exact time she was due!). She weighed 6 lb. 15 oz. and was 19 1/2" long with red hair and blue eyes! What a fantastic experience! Kristine and Lauren are both home now and doing very well.

By the way, it is the perfect time of the year for a visit to Washington. The autumn leaves are supposed to hit their peak this coming weekend. How about it? We would sure like to see you.

Have you been Bay sailing recently? I truly miss the San Francisco mid-winter sailing series. Be a stand in for me.

Hope to see you in Washington for a visit real soon. Write as soon as you can.

Dear Mr. Havel:

Mr. Haldeman asked that I thank you for your letter of September 27. Your request for campaign buttons is probably premature, but your name and address have been forwarded to the Committee for the Re-Election of the President.

Obtaining a signed picture of Mr. Haldeman will take some time. However, your request for a picture will be honored, at a later date.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR:  LARRY HIGBY
FROM:          GORDON STRACHAN
SUBJECT: Polling Situation

You asked for a brief description of where the polling situation stands with regard to the Campaign.

Flanigan and Marik have just submitted to the Attorney General the preliminary plan for Research and Polling. The Attorney General has not yet reviewed the material.

The plan recommends the same organizational structure as in 1968, that is, a consultant to act as the point of contact between the campaign management and the polling vendors. Although Derge is mentioned as one of the four possibilities, Bob Teeter from MOR is recommended.

The plan is a composite of Derge, Benham, and Higby recommendations beginning with a baseline study late in November using a 15 key state sample "filled out" to correspond with a national survey. Panels from this baseline study will be used for three subsequent surveys conducted after the primaries, after the convention, and at the height of the Campaign. In addition, a telephone-instant research system is proposed. Total cost: $692,000.

ORC would conduct the telephone polling and decision as to field interview firms would be delayed until October 31, when the selected polling consultant is expected to submit his final plans.

Other polling activity is concentrated in the Domestic Council. They are currently pushing for a farm poll, about which you have seen a separate memorandum. The Domestic Council also plans to conduct one more field survey - after the end of this fiscal year.

Of course, the Family Issues-In Depth Poll is due the week of October 11, 1971.

SUBJECT: Wisconsin Primary

Because of your trip to California, you may have missed the excellent article in this morning's New York Times regarding the problems Muskie and McGovern will face in Wisconsin.

I realize the strategy group is to focus on Florida next time, but this Wisconsin situation is so interesting that we may want to focus some of the attention on this particular race.

THE NEW YORK TIMES, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1971

Additional Rivals Threaten Muskie and McGovern in Wisconsin

By R. W. APPLE JR.

Milwaukee, Oct. 27—With Wisconsin's critical Presidential primary election take place on April 4, 1972, only two months from now, it is not known what the result will be.

But the states' Democratic politicians are looking ahead to a struggle that may involve as many as eight or nine candidates, with more questions than answers for the visitor looking for early trends.

There is general agreement among Democratic spokesmen ranging from the new left to the old center, that Senator Edmund S. Muskie of Maine would be in if the election were held tomorrow.

He is better known than other candidates, and he is a Polish-Roman Catholic in a state with huge urban concentrations of Poles (Milwaukee, Kenosha) and suburban Poles as well (Waukesha, Stevens Point).

Many Open Questions

By the same token, most of the political professionals believe that Senator George McGovern of South Dakota has put together the best organization here—a network of 50 county committees. He is building from the bottom up, Mr. Muskie from the top down.

The meaning of these “facts,” however, is far from clear, because so many other questions remain unanswered. Here is a foreshortened list of some of the imponderables, together with some of the informed speculation on them:

William Proxmire, who won re-election as Wisconsin's senior Senator last year with 71.2 per cent of the vote, decides to enter the primary; and if he does, he so dominates such a situation that he will win.

If he does, will he so dominate the political profession that he will win?

Would any other candidate in the state who has announced his candidacy withdraw?

If William Proxmire, who has returned to the state almost every weekend during his 14 years in the Senate, has a strong hold on the voters, a Democratic candidate will have the necessary votes to win.

If Milwaukee, Kenosha, and the University of Wisconsin, without so much as showing up for an hour on the campus, delegates will be selected by Congressional district, so any candidate would be assured of representation at the convention.

On the other hand, if Michael Blitcher, a mathematics professor at the university, thinks Mr. McCarthy is passé, like Mr. Warshafsky, Mr. Blitcher worked for Mr. McCarthy in 1968, but he is now supporting McGovern. According to a recent telephone poll, so are 40 of the 64 McCarthy delegates from 1968 who responded.

If Bill Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota withdraws his name from the ballot if he does not, will he campaign in the state?

Some months ago, Mr. Humphrey said he would wait until later primaries. If he begins in Wisconsin after April or May, the bulk of the state's 64 McCarthy delegates would be able to explain away a poor showing—infamous.

Will Senator Henry M. Jackson, who has late support from union members, be able to accelerate his late-staging campaign, which has brought him into the state only twice so far?

Will Mayor Lindsay run?

Will Republicans, with no sight of their own, cross over into the Democratic primary?

Vital—For McGovern

Senator McGovern has tried to persuade liberals here that he deserves a clear shot at victory, and he may be getting through. For example, State Representative Midge Miller, a 1968 McCarthyite, had been leaning toward Mayor Lindsay, but this week she said that she was “tired of muddying the waters for George.”

David Carley, a steel company executive who is considered one of Wisconsin's best political organizers, is running the Muskie campaign. He predicted that Mr. Muskie would win at least six of the state's 10 Congressional districts and two-thirds of its delegates.

The meaning of these "tacts," however, is far from clear. Because so many other questions remain unanswered. Here is a foreshortened list of some of the imponderables, together with some of the informed speculation about them:

Will William Proxmire, who won re-election as Wisconsin's senior Senator last year with 71.2 per cent of the vote, decide to enter the primary; and if he does, will he so dominate it that it loses its national meaning?

In Wisconsin, most politicians are proceeding on the assumption that Mr. Proxmire will stay out. But some of the Senators—Washington associates are betting that he will enter.

Supporters of other candidates talk bravely about the historic antipathy of Wisconsin voters toward people they do not consider "real" Presidential candidates. But Mr. Proxmire, who has returned to the state almost every weekend during his 14 years in the Senate, has a strong hold on the voters.

Does former Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota still fascinate the students, the suburban liberals and the intellectuals who gave him a majority in the 1968 primary? Ted Warshafsky, the aggressive Milwaukee lawyer who is working for Mr. McCarthy this year, insists that the former Senator's two-year retreat into opium and near silence has cost him nothing in Wisconsin.

Mr. Warshafsky said in an interview this week that Mr. McCarthy could carry the second Congressional District, which includes Madison and the University of Wisconsin, "without so much as showing up for an hour on the campus."

The bulk of the state's delegates will be selected by the voters of the 10 Congressional districts, so anyone carrying a district will be assured of representation at the convention.

On the other hand, Michael Bleicher, a mathematician who is working for Mr. McCarthy this year, told the New York Times that he is now supporting Mr. McGovern. According to a telephone poll, so are 40 of the 64 McCarthy delegates from 1968 who responded to questions.

Will Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota withdraw his name from the ballot? If he does not, will he campaign in the state?

Some months ago, Mr. Humphrey said he would wait until later primaries, filing an affidavit of noncandidacy where necessary. Recently, however, he has backed away from that position, stating that he will leave his name on the ballot but begin active campaigning in late April or May.

Among rural voters in the western part of the state, active Humphrey candidacy would undoubtedly produce results. What an inactive candidacy would accomplish, and whether Mr. Humphrey would be able to explain away a poor showing—is unknown.

Will Mayor Henry M. Jackson, who has latent support among union members here, be able to accelerate his late-starting campaign, which has brought him into the state only twice so far?

Will Mayor Lindsay run? Will Republicans, with no right of their own, cross over into the Democratic primary?

Vital—for McGovern

The list of uncertainties seems almost endless. But it is clear that Mr. McGovern stands to gain or lose the most. Wisconsin offers him his best chance among the early primaries, just as Florida offers Mr. Jackson his best. If Mr. McGovern wins here, his campaign will gain much-needed credibility; if he loses, he may have to finish.

The prospect of dividing the liberal vote with Mr. Lindsay, Mr. McCarthy and perhaps Senator Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma and Representative Shirley Chisholm of Brooklyn is a difficult one for him. So is the possibility that Mr. Proxmire's entry would reduce Wisconsin's significance.

Mr. McGovern has been drawing big crowds—400 at a garden party in Appleton, 300 at a weekday luncheon in Green Bay, 750 for a picnic in Madison. But some impartial observers, including aides to Democratic Gov. Patrick J. Lucey, who is neutral, think the crowd on the left will reduce Mr. McGovern's prospects.

Muskie Aide Confident

Senator Muskie has tried to persuade liberals here that he deserves a clear shot at victory, and he may be getting through. For example, State Representative Midge Miller, a 1968 McCarthyite, had been leaning toward Mayor Lindsay, but this week she said that she was "fearful of muddying the waters for George."

SUBJECT: Leaks

You probably noticed the detailed comments by an "unnamed GOP leader" about the President's political posture and Agnew's role. You may want to include this "leak" in your monthly report to Bob. My records indicate your first report is due to him on October 27.

GS:elr
Editorially the Portland Oregonian sees RN's summits as certification of his inaugural pledge for negotiation. In refutation to caterwauling Dems who try to pin a "hawk label" on RN, his program is a peace program. RN has become the leader this nation needs in foreign affairs. Because of his dedication to negotiation, because leaders of other nations realize his sincerity, the time is ripe for summit meetings. Every president since WW-I has sought without major success to break down the barriers to world understanding. RN "is nearer than any of them to achieving this long step for mankind," says Oregon's leading paper. US News leads its "Worldgram" review of the reaction in other countries to RN's summity by saying: "Other super-powers may be on the rise, but America is unique in today's world... Only the US, thoughtful observers are saying about RN's forthcoming visits, is strong enough to send its chief of state to other capitals in search of peace with no loss of prestige."... McGovern says that RN "is harder to hit now because he is moving so fast". He certainly is going to be harder to beat than many Dems thought a short time ago. McGovern said that the last thing he expected from RN was the PRC trip tho he applauds him on the reversal. The Senator described RN's handling of domestic and foreign affairs as "adroit." He admitted that RN had "partly defused" RN as an issue and that he has had some "slight pause" about voting against Haynsworth for the Court. "He might be as good as we can expect."

On CBS radio Dan Rather quotes an unnamed GOP leader who was asked by RN for a political assessment of this leader's area. He told RN that he was in great shape on foreign policy but people were confused and distrustful of some of the things being done on the domestic front. More than anything it's the tone and mood of the Admin. "What about Agnew?" asked RN -- "is there any way to get a sizeable minority share of the youth vote with him?" "No," the GOP leader said. But without the VP he felt there was a good chance. "If you change the ticket and get busy changing the whole tone of division, doubletalk and division on domestic matters." The official was the top elected GOP leader in an inbetween-sized state carried by RN in '60 and '68... Herb Klein said he feels RN will choose VP Agnew as his running mate.

SUBJECT:  Campaign Recruiting

You, Larry, and Dwight have been working on several proposals to recruit top advance men, establish key state strike forces, and reorganize White House Staff along campaign lines.

The attached memorandum from Hoopes to me is the first specific example of the type of problem you will face as you implement these projects.

Since you have full responsibility for these projects, will you advise Hoopes of your decisions?

MEMORANDUM FOR: GORDON STRACHAN
FROM: DAVID C. HOOPES
SUBJECT: Recruiting for Campaign

I received a call from John Clarke on the subject of certain campaign-related recruiting which he, Pendelton James and William Marumoto may be doing during the coming months. Clarke said that because the travel will probably be extensive it might not be convenient to make arrangements through the White House Travel Office. He asked several questions which I would like to get your thinking on:

1. Should these individuals be issued a book of TR’s to be used while they are away from the White House and cannot make arrangements through the Travel Office:
   Yes____  No____

2. If not, should they be issued Republican National Committee Air Travel Cards similar to the card carried by Ron Walker, et al?
   Yes____  No____

3. If "no" on #1 and #2 above, should we advise them to simply continue to make travel arrangements only in advance through the Travel Office?
   Yes____  No____

4. Is their function enough related to the campaign that all of their expenses should be paid by the RNC and none by the White House appropriated funds?
   Yes____  No____
5. May we increase their 'per diem' allocation to $40 per day?
   Yes __________ No __________

6. May we proceed to obtain automobile rental cards from Hertz or Avis for them?
   Yes __________ No __________

These questions arise primarily because we are not certain of what you, Dwight Chapin, and Fred Malek have in mind concerning their function on these trips, namely, official Presidential business or campaign-oriented business.

Thank you.
