THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

ADMINISTRATIVELY
CONFIDENTIAL

August 2, 1971

MEMORANDUM FOR :           HERB KLEIN
FROM :                       H.R. HALDEMAN HH
SUBJECT :                    Lee Hills

The President commented after the Knight breakfast that Lee Hills is the most powerful man in the Knight chain and that we should be consistently cultivating him on an ongoing basis.

Along the same line we should develop some intelligence as to who the key man is in Scripps-Howard and also in Newhouse. Perhaps also in the Chandler papers, but there we probably have to get to Otis because he will undoubtedly be the key.

In any event, he wants to be sure we are really working on these major chains on a continuing basis.

I know you are—but I think it would probably be good to keep the President posted from time to time on specific comments you pick up from these people, as you have been doing.

MEMORANDUM FOR H. R. HALDEMAN

FROM: HERBERT G. KLEIN

In response to your memorandum of December 1 regarding the San Diego convention, I think that someone misquoted to you my statement to indicate that I had said the Sheraton Corporation was giving any money to the RNC.

The fact is that I believe what I said helped nip in the bud what could have been a story of highly negative quality on a national basis. You will note that there had been ~~nothing~~ said since that time, despite the major spread in the Star prior to my comment. The earlier story was by Robert Walters in a dispatch from San Diego. In anticipation of the questions from reporters, I had prepared for this by consulting with the Attorney General and the San Diego Committee.

No one had previously discussed checking comment with Jeb Magruder or Bill Timmons, although both Bill and Jeb and I keep in very close touch on this. Jeb and I keep track of other campaign plans on a regular basis, as well as convention arrangements.

I discussed my answer to the question with Dick Herman, and he felt that the two statements were highly compatible from each of our views. As Arrangements Chairman, he was not familiar with the details of the San Diego Committee and should not be. As someone who is actively identified with San Diego, it would be hard for me not to be aware of a story which not only appeared in the Star, but which had been reported numerous times prior to the date of the convention bid in Denver. We agreed on the merit of this approach on a dual basis and the continued need for coordination.

I am enclosing a copy of the story which I think you will see reads differently from the quote which was given to you.
