Alice Widener

Very dear friend Jean Michaux -- a master of jurisprudence 0-from Paris -- son and heir of Robert Michaux who was the natural rubber king of the world

They are on a special tour of the White House at 9:15 AM Tuesday -- they will call afterwards and come over to say hello to RMW

(Mayflower - Room 691)

Please tell RMW something for me -- I ~~xxxx~~ in no sense will join any Republican group of any kind that opposes the President -- I will support the President all the way through -- I agree absolutely with Clare Boothe Luce that any movement by Buckley, etc. is sophomoric. I am very furious and in no point will I have my name associated -- this is a delicate position for me because I have exceptional readership -- so many papers in the country carry my articles -- I am absolutely all out in support for the President -- I will not write one sentence or tolerate any use of my name not in support of the President. I have just toured the whole U.S.
I have expressed myself among Republicans everywhere -- I intend to go on expressing myself.

I shall use every influence I have with -- I am afraid if I attack openly in my own column some of the people who have been friends and colleagues they may say "there goes Alice Widener attacking her colleagues." being the only woman on the scene with millions of readers they will just say "she is jealous -- she does not have a TV program."

I really think I could take them apart

I need some good advice from RMW -- I am thinking about strategy -- I will not put my column in Wm. Loeb's newspaper -- I declined years ago to do that.

I will go out and really fight if it is the right thing to do
On the other hand, maybe she will drop me a note and give me her advice

I think the wisest would be to fight for the President and leave the Republican colleagues alone -- to fight positively for the President and what the President stands for -- and not attack my colleagues -- if RMW agrees with that she would just need to drop me a line and say that is the wisest thing to do.
