Mr. John Ehrlichman
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear John:

I very much appreciate your taking the time to visit with Dick Allison and me during our recent visit.

We are now about two hours away from final certification of the election. With the re-count three-fourths complete last night we had lost only eight votes, so things look good.

I look forward to continuing our close communicative relationship in the months ahead and please let us know if there is anything we can do for you here in Seattle. Our interim office will be Room 200 Medical Arts Building, 1117 Second Avenue, Seattle 98101, phone 206-
MA3-6038 or MA2-4680.

Have a happy holiday season.

Sincerely,

Christopher T. Bayley

Dear Mrs. Arvidson, Ruth H. EHRlichMAN, JOHN D. / mess - sent / A

One of the best things about this job is in hearing from old friends. And every now and then I get a surprise. I had no idea that John Huribut and you were brother and sister.

He, of all my law school professors, probably had more influence on the way in which I practiced law than anyone else. So the Huributs have influenced me early and late and I'm grateful to you both.

And I'm especially grateful to you for writing to me and telling me about your conversation and about the relationship.

We get out to San Clemente when the President goes out there and I have yet to find time to take my youngsters up to Santa Monica to show them Roosevelt and Lincoln and all my old haunts but one of these days, perhaps this summer, we'll be able to do that.

We have five youngsters, the eldest of whom is now at Stanford as an undergraduate and is about to go overseas on the Stanford Abroad program. We're looking forward to having him here for Christmas and then we'll send him on his way. Our youngest girl is in junior high now, suffering the vicissitudes of French as did we all, and we have a younger boy who shortly will tackle it. My French has stuck with me pretty well over the years and I get a chance to use it every now and then in my travels.

I tried it out on General deGaulle when we were there a year ago last February during a social conversation just before a state dinner. After about a sentence or two he grabbed a passing interpreter by the arm and brought him over to make it possible for me to communicate in English. But even though I can't achieve diplomatic fluency, I can ask where the airport is and how to find the elevator. For which I am grateful to you.

Thanks so much for writing. I hope to see John when I'm at Stanford Law School in April and we will have a chance then to visit about you.

Kindest personal regards.

Yours sincerely,

John D. Ehrlichman

MRS. RUTH H. ARVIDSON • 440 24TH STREET • SANTA MONICA, CALIFORNIA 90402

Dear Mr. Erlichman (John, to me!)

One day recently when my brother John Hurlbut, was in Santa Monica, he mentioned you as one of his former Stanford law students who is now in the limelight of world affairs and whom he holds in high esteem.

I then described a ninth grader at the Lincoln Junior High School — a handsome, fine statured, ruddy checked, dark haired, brown eyed boy, mature for his years and of course, an "A" student, who sat (I remember exactly where!) in my miserable little classroom where the lovely Spanish and French languages were accustomed to being murdered.

From my description he was quite sure that my young student and his older one must be the same person. So, he looked up your record at Stanford and reported to me that you did attend the Santa Monica Schools.

Too, I find that your mother lives not far from me and that she is a close friend of one of my neighbors.

So, I just can't resist writing to tell you how very proud of you all of us are. Of course, teachers, especially at the secondary level, must achieve fame vicariously.

Sincerely,
Ruth Haskell Brindson
