National Security Decision Memorandum 44

TO:           The Vice President
              The Secretary of State
              The Secretary of Defense
              The Director, Central Intelligence Agency
              The Director, Arms Control and Disarmament Agency
              The Director, Office of Emergency Preparedness
              The Director, Office of Science and Technology

SUBJECT:     United States Policy on Toxins

Following a review of United States military programs for toxins, the President has decided that:

1. The United States will renounce the production for operational purposes, stockpiling and use in retaliation of toxins produced either by bacteriological or biological processes or by chemical synthesis.
2. The United States military program for toxins will be confined to research and development for defensive purposes only.
3. The Secretary of Defense will submit recommendations concerning the disposal of existing stocks of toxin weapons and/or agents. These recommendations should accompany the recommendations pursuant to National Security Decision Memorandum 35 regarding the disposal of bacteriological/biological weapons.
4. The Under Secretaries Committee's annual review of United States chemical warfare programs and public information policy, as directed by National Security Decision Memorandum 35, will include review of United States military toxins programs.
