Subj: Confidential Report on National Council of Scholars Meeting -
Washington, D. C., Jan. 11-12

At Bob Haldeman's and Len Garment's request, I represented you at the meeting of this group which grew out of the Scholars for Nixon-Agnew, co-chaired by Joe Kaplan of U.C.L.A. and David Rowe of Yale.

The enclosed materials indicate their membership, purpose and functions. Their deepest intent is to counteract the negativity of the campuses toward government and provide a positive support and channel for improving the understanding of both.

The group is obviously highly motivated. Most of them played an active role in the Republican victory. Effort has been made to broaden the base to include a more representative group of scholars and political affiliation.

My assessment of the group and meeting follows:

- (1) It is a well meaning group with a sound purpose; with a few outstanding scholars who are R.N. partisans.
- (2) The group has not touched base with any of the major academic professional groups or advisory groups to government. This is essential for any relevant success.
- (3) Virtually none of the "power figures", essential to influence from the University, are included.
- (4) They have been funded thus far by Henry Salvatori and expect to raise $100,000 annually for this effort.

My recommendation:

- (1) They should be encouraged in their effort which is badly needed;
- (2) They should not be thought of as the channel or spokesman for the intellectual community.
- (3) R.N. should be wary of having any group presume to have "his" special endorsement in an area so highly charged, influence conscious, and with so many competing groups.
- (4) The enclosed note should be sufficient.

cc: Messrs. Garment, Haldeman, Ellsworth

(Suggested note to Joe Kaplan and David Rowe)

Dear :

Glenn Olds has reported on your meeting in Washington. As you know, I am pleased at every initiative that seeks to bring more citizen participation into the support of good government. It is especially important that more productive communication and cooperation be achieved between the campuses and Washington. Anything that you, or any other group, can do to improve these relationships will be of help to the entire nation.

I am pleased that you recognize in your statement of purpose the importance of maintaining your private character and initiative. You would not, therefore, expect anything more of me than continuing interest.

Please know how much I have appreciated the leadership you gave to the campaign and your continuing help beyond partisanship.

Sincerely yours,

ACTION TAKEN BY NATIONAL COUNCIL OF SCHOLARS

Dr. David N. Rowe and Dr. Joseph Kaplan were confirmed as National Chairmen.

The Executive Committee will conduct a search for an Executive Director to man a Washington, D. C. office. The current candidates are:

1. Robert McCormack, Researcher in Arts and Science Office of Republican National Committee
2. Elmer Schlotz, Public Relations, Denver, Colorado
3. Bunday Clark, Republican National Committee
4. Newton Steers, State Chairman, Maryland Citizens Foreign Relations Task Force

Dr. Joseph Aschheim will serve as Secretary and maintain Washington, D. C. liaison until Executive Director is appointed.

The National Advisory Board will be increased to forty and will attempt to add women, blacks, candidates from the humanities and youth. The committee will avoid concentration of members from the same institute, university or department.

The Advisory Board will hold one more meeting in the Spring and then meet annually thereafter.

Telephone conferences will be conducted periodically and any four members of the Executive Committee constitutes a quorum.

The National Council of Scholars will issue a news release one week after January 20th.

A sub-committee was formed to evaluate and study feasibility of an initial project: How to resolve alienation of the academic community from the Government, the Nation and the Administration. The sub-committee will have two months to prepare preliminary analysis of the project.

The sub-committee is composed of:
Prof. Gerhart Niemeyer, Chairman
Prof. Will Herberg
Dr. K. A. Wittfogel
Dr. Stephen Possony

The Council will seek an appointment with President Nixon at his earliest possible convenience in order to elicit his counsel, judgment, ideas and support.

The Council will pursue the possibility of becoming a tax exempt organization.

President Robert Morris, University of Plano and Professor Dallin H. Oaks, University of Chicago Law School, will be responsible for exploring tax exemption.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF SCHOLARS

PURPOSES AND FUNCTIONS

The effective operation of our American Government requires support in all segments of the nation including the scholarly community. There is a need to involve and to bring together individual scholars and existing scholarly organizations for that purpose.

National Council of Scholars has been constituted to respond to this need.

The Council proposes therefore such endeavors as the following:

1. Facilitation of two-way communication between government and scholars in such a way as to develop better mutual understanding of national objectives and of the ways in which scholarly activities can best contribute to their achievement.
2. To apply resources of the scholarly community on a broad inter-disciplinary basis to specific problems of national interest, thereby contributing to the effectiveness of Government operations. To carry out such a plan among the activities presently foreseen are the following:

The following types of activities may be engaged in:

1. Informative meetings on a regional as well as national basis
2. Informal discussion groups to explore certain subject areas in greater depth.
3. Specific research and study projects, leading to formal reports and recommendations.
4. Publications and papers as may be appropriate.

Re: Memo of November 20, 1968 - Nixon Image Abroad

The portion of the memo dealing with the elements of the successful campaign strategy has been sent to Teddy White as you requested.

The other idea, suggesting that a trip abroad be taken by a top Nixon aide to explain this strategy to leading writers in Paris and London, was accomplished by Bob Ellsworth in late November.

FROM: DOUG STEPHENS

RE: Suggested policy statement drafted by Mr. Agnew to be issued by RN

The following statement relayed to me by C. D. Ward from Vice President-elect Agnew's office:

Absolutely essential to my administration is a more practical and functional role for state and local government officials in the formulation of federal policies, programs, goals, and priorities. We must have a working partnership among all levels of government to seek and implement solutions to our many domestic programs. Our state and local officials have the difficult job of meshing federal assistance with their needs, and I feel there is no group in a better position to advise the federal government on how to improve domestic programs than these men and women who have the ultimate responsibility for carrying them out.

I attach such importance to this objective that, as I have previously indicated, I am asking Vice President-elect Agnew to assume responsibility for seeing that it is accomplished. Accordingly, the Vice President will act as my liaison with state and local government officials. It will be his responsibility to make the federal machinery sensitive, receptive, and responsive to their views. Conversely, the federal departments, agencies, and councils will look to him to smooth out any rough spots in their relations with state and local governments. He will encourage and assist in facilitating maximum cooperation between the various federal agencies and state and local governments.

We want to reverse the situation wherein state and local officials merely "get the word from Washington", rather we want the federal government to get the word from the state and local governments on how they view pending federal decisions, what their priorities are, how they feel federal aid can be structured so as to be more helpful to them, where the defects in our grants-in-aid program are, all of which will better enable us to respond to the many critical problems confronting our state and local governments. It is also my desire that the Vice President-elect work closely with and encourage the productive work of the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. The recommendations of the Commission and its research would be of great value to the Vice President-elect in reaching our objectives. There will be no body which will need to be more sensitive and responsive to Vice President-elect Agnew's activities in this area than the Council on Urban Affairs. Vice President-elect Agnew will serve as a permanent member of the Council and in my absence serve as its chairman.

RE: PERSONNEL -- ELISKA HASEK

This will confirm that we are committed to retain Eliska Hasek on the White House staff.

I have discussed this arrangement with Jim Keogh. It is as follows: Eliska has agreed to remain as the White House message drafter for whatever period of time we need her services. At a point in time agreeable to the President and Eliska, we will assist her in finding a place to her liking in the Foreign Service.

She will be retained at her current salary level, which is unclassified GS-11, currently covered under White House Special Projects.
