Dear Bob:

First of all, congratulations on the convention success. I thought the entire matter, including the Vice Presidential nomination, was masterfully handled.

I would like to propose a project which I feel could be very important to the campaign. I suggested a similar approach in 1964 and, although everyone agreed it should be done, nothing was done due to the lack of organization.

My proposal is designed to overcome the only hurdle which is so far uncontrollable, namely, the "handling" of the campaign by the news media. I am sure you are all familiar with the many slanted statements and misrepresentations already revealing themselves, i. e., NBC's coverage and commentary concerning Mr. Nixon's acceptance speech.

Consider for a moment this scenario. It is two weeks before election. The polls indicate a very close race or that Nixon is behind. Huntley, Cronkite, Smith, etc., have given Nixon and the Republicans the same treatment afforded Goldwater in 1964. Let us assume for a moment that at this crucial point in the campaign, the Republican National Committee announces that it would like to demonstrate to the American people that they have been completely misled by the media. On all major television stations a program is presented consisting of film clips of television news broadcasts, with appropriate commentary. This program clearly demonstrates the following:

1. Whenever the Republican candidates are mentioned, the commentator not only uses a grim tone of voice but he actually scowls. Whenever the Democratic candidates are mentioned, the commentator uses an approving tone of voice and his facial expression is pleasant in all respects.

2. Most times that Nixon's campaign is reported, it is by way of commentary. Most times when Humphrey's campaign is reported, a film clip of the speech is shown with cheering crowds. In addition, most of these clips consist of Humphrey attacking Nixon rather than addressing himself to any campaign issue.

Mr. Robert Haldeman
August 14, 1968
Page 2

3. In most instances that Richard Nixon is mentioned, the commentator just uses the name Nixon, not Richard Nixon or former Vice President Nixon. On the other hand, whenever Hubert Humphrey is mentioned, it is almost always Vice President Humphrey, never just Humphrey.

4. The time devoted to Nixon and the Republican campaign is substantially less than the time devoted to Humphrey and the Democratic campaign.

5. On many important issues, the Republican candidates are misquoted, quoted out of context or editorialized. This is proved by presenting film clips of exact speeches and contrasting these film clips to the reporter's comment thereon.

6. The adjectives used in describing the Republican candidates are "weak", "stern", "grim", "ineffectual", "boring", "tired", etc. The adjectives used in describing the Democratic candidates are "serene", "sincere", "forceful", "confident", "crisp", etc.

I have described above a not too exaggerated replica of what actually happened in 1964. There is no doubt that these tricks clearly influenced the voters' image of the candidates and the campaign issues.

It is my notion that it is imperative to tape all of the major news broadcasts and monitor them for content. It is also imperative to be in a position to replay by way of tape recording any and all of our candidates' remarks.

There is no doubt in my mind that if these practices are repeated not only can an effective case be made to the American people that they have been "taken", but a lawsuit can be filed for "equal time" to prove it. Equal time does not mean commenting adversely on one candidate as against airing a speech of the other.

I repeat that this monitoring can be done by volunteer help. I also repeat that if we do get fair treatment or if we seem to be assured of victory, the project can be scrapped. But in any case we should be prepared.

One more thought. Undoubtedly this idea, if carried out, will get back to the media. The least I can see happening is that as a result we will get a better shake.

Mr. Robert Haldeman
August 14, 1968

I have a great many more detailed ideas on this subject which I would like to relate to the proper people. I have discussed my thoughts with several very knowledgeable individuals and they all seem to wholeheartedly agree.

Please let me hear from someone.

By the way, I would like to volunteer my services in any aspect of the campaign in which I might be useful.

Sincerely,

Your suggestion is a good one. Thank you for taking the time to forward it.

We are presently working on a system of monitoring television and newspaper coverage should it become necessary for us to act as the campaign progresses. We hope that in this campaign we will receive the type of fair coverage you mention. However, should it be otherwise, we will be prepared.

Your letter also expressed your interest in working during the campaign. With this in mind I have forwarded your name to Mr. Al Hartunian, who will be coordinating our Citizens effort in California. He should be in contact with you soon.

Just a note to thank you for your invaluable efforts on behalf of Richard Nixon during the Convention. Without your support, hard work and exceptional leadership our job would not have been so easy. It was a very real pleasure for me to work with you.

A united, well-coordinated campaign was the deciding factor in such a great success -- as it will be once again in November.

Thanks for all you have done and will continue to do. I look forward to working with you again to promote our common objective of a Republican victory.

It is my opinion that we can carry Hawaii - with organization and hard work. LBJ did not endear himself or the administration by proposing a "Tourist Tax" that would be a "Kiss of Death" to the economy of the Islands.

There was a majority opinion of those tourists who talked with me that Nixon was the best qualified for President among candidates of both parties.

I am enclosing copies of letters sent to Washington, deploring conditions in "National Parks", etc.

Dear Mr. Bell:

The "American Tourists" who flock from all parts of our country to National Parks in the West, and those excellent college youth who work there, need a champion.

Our party of four just finished a trip that included Jackson Lodge and the Tetons, Yellowstone, Glacier Park, etc., and were shocked at our findings. I think that the BEST is none too good for our own people, as well as the employees, at these places.

The college youths, as employees, are paid under the minimum wage, over-worked, and poorly fed, and some laid off, even though there has been an 11 percent increase in tourists this year.

The high cost of the accomodations and poor food, especially in the "Old Faithful" area, is beyond comprehension! "Canyon Village" district seemed a lot better.

I think that NOW is the time to make a complete study of this situation and remedy it.

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Pollner:

The national office of the United States Treasury Agents Association wishes to invite Mr. Nixon to be the guest speaker at our semi-annual dinner, hosted by our New York Chapter in their city. This semi-formal affair is scheduled within the last three weeks of October, 1968.

Since we will have over 1500 persons in attendance, we are endeavoring to have all of the arrangements made by September 6, 1968. Among those present will be Federal department heads, bureau heads of Federal law enforcement agencies, heads of state law enforcement agencies, as well as local law enforcement officials.

We, as federal law enforcement officers, and as private citizens of this great nation, individually and collectively, are very interested in the position Mr. Nixon takes on crime, law and order, and law enforcement problems. These issues are our issues also. We are eagerly looking forward to Mr. Nixon's guidance on these matters, as well as rendering any assistance necessary to promote our common goals.

The United States Treasury Agents Association was begun about 10 years ago in Chicago by a group of Treasury Enforcement personnel who saw the advantages of such an association for men engaged in enforcement activities. Today, we have 26 chapters throughout the United States, united to promote professionalization through education; consistent maintenance of the highest standards so deserving of our office, and to further the preservation of, and adherence to, the Constitution of the United States.

The success of our association recently required amendments to our constitution, whereby our membership has now been expanded to include all law enforcement officers in the federal service. This expansion now gives us a potential membership of over 30,000 Federal Criminal Investigators.

Our legislative programs, among other matters, include better recognition of law enforcement problems; retirement benefits comparable to state and municipal standards. We are most interested in HR - 17682, which gives some improvement to general federal retirement plan, and increasing the law enforcement personnel retirement computation factor from 2 percent to 2½ percent, after 20 years of service. Unfortunately, Congress recessed before any action was taken on this bill.

We sincerely hope that Mr. Nixon's schedule is such that he will be able to afford us the honor of accepting our invitation to speak on our mutual issues, which are so critical to our country today.

Sincerely yours,

MILTON K. WU
