Dear John:

AIRMAIL - SPECIAL DELIVERY

I am sending you a copy of the over-all California schedule. I will cover in this letter some of the details which should be looked into while you are in San Francisco this weekend.

First, there seems to be some doubt on the part of George Milias at least, as to whether the separate meeting with the 1st District committee is a good idea. He is going to look into this further and discuss with the people in the 1st District group. I think you better call him when you get to San Francisco and find out what his plans are unless I have gotten word to you sooner. Since Newt Stearns will be in Los Angeles, he suggests you work out details with Max Abramson of his office. He's the fellow we met the afternoon we were in there last week.

If it is decided not to hold the 1st District meeting, then we should either start the general coffee hour at 9:00 or else plan no activity for 9:00 - 9:30 and start the coffee hour at 9:30 as originally scheduled.

Regarding this, if it is decided to hold the 1st District meeting, you will have to set up a separate suite in the Hotel or a private dining room for this purpose. You will have to work out with Milias and the others an estimate of the size of the group, and then try to get a room that will accommodate them but be relatively well filled up once they're all in it. I think it would be a good idea to serve coffee at least, at this meeting....possibly a tray of donuts, and this arrangement should be made with the Hotel. The host in this case would either be the District committee itself or the State committee...that is, George Milias. It should be strongly emphasized that the people attending this meeting be there promptly at 9:00, or better yet, well before nine o'clock since the Vice-President will be stopping by there on his way to the coffee hour with the larger group. This meeting should not be announced as a scheduled event on the Vice-President's itinerary but rather it should be privately known to the 1st District committee that he has agreed to stop by their meeting in the Hotel on his way to the other coffee hour.

As far as the big coffee hour session is concerned, you will probably have to use the ballroom of the Hotel or the biggest general room they have, assuming, of course that you are convinced the committee is going to produce the 2,000 or 3,000 people that we are expecting. The reception setup should be the way you and I had discussed earlier....that is, either a raised platform or a stage for the receiving line which will probably consist just of the Vice-President and Pat, although if Milias or Bill Steele or Weinberger or Dinkelspiel want to stand in the line, we probably should let them. The idea here might be to have them rotate, since it is planned to stagger the arrival times of these groups, having the county committee come at 9:30; maybe the YH's at 10:00; the Womens division at 10:30 and the Nixon-in-'60 people from outlying counties at 11:00; thus avoiding having everyone arrive at the same time and having to stand in line for too long. We have got to be careful, however, not to end up with a sparse crowd at any point...especially at the 9:30 arrival time. This meeting should definitely be set up on the basis of a stand-up deal with coffee and donuts served and some provision made for a receiving line to form and go up on the platform to greet the Vice-President. It is to be hoped that the whole crowd will not stand in the line all the time, but rather will around the room with a small group gradually feeding into the line on a steady basis so no one just has to stand in line for too long a period.

You will note that on the schedule, I have provided the period 11:30 to 12:30 as time reserved for RN. It is quite possible that if we get the size crowd we are expecting, the reception will drag on longer than the 11:30 cut-off time. If that is the case, we can cut into his reserve time if necessary. I wouldn't say so on the schedule, however.

I think the finance luncheon has already been scheduled in a room determined for. I believe it is the Italian Room at the St. Francis. You should check that out; determine who is at the head table; who will introduce RN; how the general program of this luncheon will be handled, etc. We don't need to get too deeply into the details of that since it will be in the nature of a private affair. He should definitely plan to leave that luncheon at 2:30, however.

After a few minutes in the room to polish his skis, we will take him over to the KQED studio for the filming of his program with Weinberger. Nothing has been set up on that as far as I am concerned, although I am sure that preliminary arrangements have been made. You should get in touch with Weinberger and work out the details with him. It is important we have a run-down on the nature of the program; what is to be covered; what RN is expected to do, etc. Also, Weinberger should have the studios set up and everything ready to go as soon as we arrive so that there will be a minimum of delay.

February 4, 1960

You should be aware of, but not discuss with anyone, the possibility that on the way back to the St. Francis from the TV studio, the Vice-President may want to stop by a school for the deaf where a cousin or some relative of his is attending. This is not to be announced, or discussed, or planned in any way, but we will check it out on the ground when we get there.

I have talked at some length with Verl Taylor who is handling the arrangements for the Harvard-Stanford party and you can just confirm those with him, but they follow the pattern covered in the schedule, pretty closely. You should check out routes to the Presidential Suite and then down to the garden court and so on in the Palace Hotel so we know exactly where we are going.

It will be necessary to check out also, the automobile arrangements. I assume these will be handled through Whittaker and Baxter, but they have not been discussed. It looks as though there will be five traveling press so I think we better go on the basis of two cars for staff and two cars for press. If we pick up some extra press in the State of California, we will just have to add some more cars. I don't know how that's going to work. The Convair that we are chartering will seat 35 in addition to the Vice-President and Mrs. Nixon. Therefore, there is room for a large contingent of reporters and we may get stuck with some. If the reporter group gets to be more than 10 or 15, I think we ought to probably hire a bus for the press to ride in, rather than stringing them out in a long row of cars. It would be much easier to keep them together that way.

The press is included...that is, the traveling press...in the Harvard-Stanford dinner but this should be confirmed with Verl Taylor.

I have told Tom Hanson, the agent in charge of secret service in San Francisco that you will be coming in this weekend. You should work with him closely on all of these arrangements now, because he will have to work out his security plans. You will find that he can be a great deal of help, I think.

As far as the general hotel arrangements are concerned, I think you are familiar with what is needed. There should be the large suite for the Vice-President and Mrs. Nixon with a parlor and two bedrooms; Secret Service goes in a room next to that; and staff in rooms as close by as possible. There should be a suite or two connecting rooms for Rose Woods. Arrangements should be made for an IBM typewriter on a stand in Rose Woods' living room or extra bedroom. If the hotel can't take care of this, call IBM in San Francisco direct.

Going back to the motorcade for a minute...you of course, will also have to have a car for the Vice-President for which the Secret Service will provide a driver. The local people will have to provide drivers for the staff and press cars.

Mr. John Erlichman

February 4, 1960

Regarding the coffee hour Saturday morning....the intention on our part was that the meeting would be co-hosted by the Nixon-in-'60 group and the Republican party central committee but I have a feeling that Newt has set it up on the basis of the Nixon-in-'60 group (that is, Weinberger and Dinkelspiel) being the hosts with the others being invited guests. This may work out all right, and I'll do some telephone discussing in the next couple of days and give you a call if there seems to be any problem in this area.

Don't hesitate to give me a call at home if there is anything you need to cover or any questions you have.

Best regards.

Sincerely yours,

H. R. Haldeman

RE: Jack Stiles

I discussed Stiles' salary situation with him yesterday afternoon and we agreed that for the time being at least, he would stay on our rolls as a volunteer instead of a paid employee. We will then reimburse him for all of his expenses for living in Washington. It is understood these expenses are not to exceed $1200 a month.

For the first month's expenses, which I have approved, and he has been reimbursed already by check...the amount was in excess of $1200 but this will be balanced by a lower amount in future months.

If, at some time in the future, this system does not seem to be working satisfactorily, either for us or for Stiles, we will then consider an adjustment, but for the time being, we think it should work out all right.

I have asked Carolyn Day to proceed on this basis, but to keep an accurate record of the reimbursements which are for expenses in Washington, separately from those expenses incurred on travels on corp. business.

RE: California trip

The following will provide some background information for several of the events on the California itinerary:

Sacramento: The dinner and ball which the Vice-President is to attend are sponsored by the Sacramento City-County Chamber of Commerce, Olympic Committee members, members of the foreign and domestic press corps, and representatives of the 33 teams will be honored at this meeting. Gov. and Mrs. Brown will be present and the Governor requested that the Vice-President and Mrs. Nixon be requested to participate. I have learned that members of the International Olympic committee will not be able to attend, through prior commitments in Santa Barbara that day, but there will be one representative of the group at the dinner and the ball. The general group at the dinner will consist of the heads of missions, heads of the teams, a representative of the organizing committee; local Sacramento officials and the key press people ... a total group of only about 125-150.

The Snow Ball will open with a Grand March led by Gov. Brown. It is suggested that the Vice-President and Mrs. Nixon plan to stand in an honored guest box and view the grand march and then leave the ball after that. Later on in the evening, a Miss Winter Olympics of 1960 will be selected and crowned.

The political gathering at the Senator Hotel scheduled prior to the dinner will be a receiving line with invited guests - about 200-300; not a public meeting. There is a possibility that the second and third congressional district committees who we scratched in Marysville, may come into Sacramento, in which case the Vice-President could stop by a gathering of their group at 5:00, prior to going to the other reception at 5:30.

The State Legislators' breakfast in the morning will be at the Sutter Club, a stag affair; approximately 30 attending with McCarthy and Dahl co-hosting.

Fresno: The primary function here is the Diamond Jubilee Luncheon celebrating the 75th Anniversary of the City of Fresno. The celebration will run through the summer, climaxing on October 27. This luncheon is the kick-off for the period of celebration. It is planned to build some sort of a monument to commemorate the anniversary and the Golden Spike which the Vice-President will be given to present to Dick Atkins, president of the Jubilee Committee, will be used in this memorial.

February 8, 1960

This is strictly a Chamber of Commerce civic event as far as Fresno is concerned and is not political. They would appreciate remarks by the Vice-President along the line of the historic past of the City of Fresno and the way it relates to the great future for Fresno, the United States and the world.

At this point we don't have much dope on the Q. & A. session with the Nixon-in-'60 people. This will be televised and I think it's important that a TV man be put in there. I don't think they're going to carry it live; it's a bad time on the air anyway but it will be filmed for later release. This one could be very effective if handled right and should be picked up by someone who knows how to handle it as soon as possible.

We are planning to reintroduce Fresno a couple of days ahead of the event as well as the day before. The Vice-President should know that water is the primary problem in this area, and he will undoubtedly be questioned on this topic at this Q. & A. He can also expect some questions on the farm problem and agricultural situation.

Mr. Douglas Wheeler

Dear Doug:

I enjoyed receiving your letter of January 18. I have been keeping track of your activities...at least up through the end of last year, from reports your dad has given me.

I was glad to hear you are interested in attending the Republican Convention this summer and I can't at this time give you any specific information on a position that might be open in the Nixon group at the convention, but I wanted you to know that I will certainly keep your suggestion in mind and as we start getting the convention organization set up, I will see if there isn't a place where we could work you in.

I would suggest that you drop me a note the latter part of May if you have not heard from me prior to that time, but I assure you I will do the best I can to work something out for you.

Sincerely,

H. R. Haldeman
