P said he was calling about the CIA U-2 flight scheduled [redacted] this evening. [redacted] - it will not be protected. P said it would be his advice that we stand it down and wait for a couple of days to see what to do. K asked if anyone - [redacted] - know that the flight was supposed to go.
P said no. K said if we loose ~~any~~ another ~~big~~ flight that is not protected we will really be in trouble. P said he thinks it should be stood down.
K said he hates to do it but he thinks it is the prudent thing to do.

[redacted]
[redacted] K asked whether P could ~~mak~~ arrange to have it stood down and P said yes unless K would like to do so. K said no P could call Helms and say they had talked - K will talk to the President.

[redacted]

P said he has the information on MOL - both P and Laird would prefer to let it ride for a while. K said he would like P to send something over that he could study. P said it is their recommendation that MDL be continued as planned but it can be cut back substantially. K asked what P's personal view was. P said it would not be too bad to this - it would delay opportunity to get this sort of capability a year or so, but in view of all budgetary pressues, they could stand it. P said it is very important that they keep the HEXAGON program. P said ~~ixix~~ he would send a summary over to K; they would prefer not to make a decision until they see how Congress is going to treat them.
