Dear Mr. Ehrlichman:

The 1973 Young Republican National Leadership Conference will be held in Washington, D. C., from March 28-31. On Thursday evening, March 29, a special reception for you and other members of the Nixon Administration will be held in the North Cotillion Room of the Sheraton-Park Hotel from 5:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. Immediately following the reception, you are invited to be our guest at the Presidential Banquet to which past Young Republican Chairman, Co-Chairmen, members of the Young Republican Advisory Board, and former officials of the Committee for the Re-Election of the President have also been invited.

This occasion will provide an excellent opportunity for you to meet with the future leaders of our party. These young people, who have come to Washington from all over the nation, will be anxious to meet with you. We urge your participation in this program as it will mean a great deal to the success of YRLC '73.

YRLC '73 — RECEPTIONS, BANQUETS, TOURS, WORKSHOPS, LECTURES, SEMINARS — MARCH 28 - 31

Governor Reagan

Make plans now to join us for our 15th annual Young Republican Leadership Conference. The entire 1973 program scheduled for March 28-31 in Washington, D. C., is designed to provide you with opportunities to meet the Republican Party's leading spokesmen. You'll mingle with Senators and Congressmen at the Congressional Reception. Hear various banquet speakers — among those invited are Anne Armstrong, Counsellor to the President; Senator Brooke, Congressman Crane, Governors Moore and Reagan. President Nixon has been extended an invitation too!

Spend a few leisurely hours with National Security Council Advisor, Dolf Droge, who will highlight our Vietnam experience and analyze other vital areas of concern to our foreign policy advisors. Or, if you want to see the latest in campaign films, join expert Julian Kanter for a political review of the best (and the worst) in television political advertising.

Dolf Droge

Take time to tour Capitol Hill on Wednesday, March 28, or visit our national monuments, Arlington Cemetery, the National Gallery of Art, the Smithsonian, and all the other attractions which have made Washington such a beautiful city. Accompany us on the White House tour and reception on Friday, March 30, and then help us celebrate the finale — the Cold Duck Party on Saturday evening.

Hear the topical panels "Gals in Politics," "The Emerging Republican Majority," "The New Congress — What to Expect," and "Pundits and Politicians." These seminars and lectures, sightseeing and partying await you during these fabulous four days in Washington.

Our Conference will highlight all aspects of campaign management, successful YR programming, topical briefings on current domestic and foreign policy issues, and the famed Graduate School. It's all here — 4 days of every imaginable phase of political activity.

Campaign Management

- Candidate recruitment. How do we get Republicans elected?
- Proper polling techniques and judging public opinion.
- How to run a campaign (local, state, national).
- Fund-raising (direct mail, advertising, parties).

How To Have a Successful YR Club

- These panels will include all relevant facets of building a YR club. Includes program, membership, public relations, parliamentary procedure, voter registration, fund-raising.
- YR relations with the local senior party.
- See the IDEA MART — diversified and imaginative projects on display.

Issues

- Hear Administrative spokesmen "brief" you on such topics as national security, health care, agriculture, and the cost of living.

Graduate School

- Upgraded this year for YRNF Executive and National Committee members and those outstanding YRs as selected by each YR State Chairman. Hear remarks from White House aides, columnists, pollsters, and join a discussion of the role of YR State Chairmen, Committeemen and Committeewomen.

Now in its 15th year, YRLC is a four-day program designed for Young Republicans, College Republicans, and Teenage Republicans. It is for those club leaders who want to develop strong and effective Republican organizations and for those interested in campaign management techniques. It is for those desiring "in-depth" analyses of domestic and foreign policy issues. And it will provide all Republicans a unique opportunity to meet the Party leadership.
