Thursday, December 21st. The President at Key Biscayne. He did call during the day, but I was out shopping. I returned the call in the evening, and he had nothing particular in mind, except wanting Ehrlichman to call his brother Ed Nixon about some football deal Ed's trying to put together. I talked to Connally earlier in the day.

On Vietnam, Connally says everybody hopes that there can be a resolution, but the President is not hurt yet. Kissinger is, because he overplayed his hand on peace is at hand. There's no great furor yet, just a trend on this.

End of December 21st.
