Lieutenant WILLIAM EMANUEL KELLEY, U.S. Navy, was commissioned Ensign U.S. Naval Reserve in December 1962.

A native of California, Lieutenant Kelley grew up in the Watts section of Los Angeles where his parents still reside. He attended John C. Fremont High School and graduated from Whittier College with a B.A. in Sociology in 1960.

He is now serving as Operations Officer in the Pacific Fleet destroyer USS COLLETT (DD-730). Prior to augmenting into the regular Navy in 1965, he served as Communications Officer in the destroyers HERBERT J. THOMAS (DDR-833) and BERKELEY (DDG-15). After 21 months as Operations Officer in the fleet oiler CHIPOLA (AO-63), Lieutenant Kelley attended the U.S. Naval Destroyer School in Newport, Rhode Island and then reported to his present billet.

Each of the ships in which he has served have operated in waters off the coast of Vietnam. Lieutenant Kelley's military decorations include the Navy Unit Commendation Ribbon and the Vietnamese Service Medal with four campaign stars. He has received a letter of commendation from Commander Service Force, U.S. Pacific Fleet for his performance as a department head in the USS CHIPOLA.

While at Whittier College, Mr. Kelley was active in many extra curricular activities including athletics, the A Capella choir and student government. He was president of the Whittier College Student Body in 1960. He was also active in the Young Men's Christian Association and served as Co-chairman of the Annual Pacific Southwest Region Student Conference in 1959 and Vice President of the National Student Council of YMCA's in 1960. He was the recipient of the Walter Dexter Award from Whittier College on graduation and was listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, 1960.

After graduation from Whittier College, Mr. Kelley accepted the invitation of the National Council of YMCA's of Sweden to visit that country in an advisory capacity for the development of youth programs within the Swedish YMCA's. He spent a full year in Sweden and his work there received the sponsorship of the International Committee of the YMCA's of United States and Canada. At the request of his Swedish sponsors, Mr. Kelley helped to develop a coeducational program for high school age young people similar to Hi-Y Clubs in the USA. This program is still in operation in Sweden. Mr. Kelley represented the USA at YMCA sponsored Youth Conferences in Germany and Austria and was a delegate to the World Council of YMCA's in Geneva, Switzerland in 1961.

Upon returning to the United States, Mr. Kelley worked for a year as Program Director for the Southwest Branch of the YMCA of Los Angeles, where he directed a program for over 800 young people within the "inner city" of Los Angeles.

The youngest son of retired Los Angeles Policeman LeRoy Kelley, Sr. and Laura Mae Kelley, he now resides in Long Beach with his wife of one year, Joann, who is a former Flight Hostess with Trans World Airlines.

PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL

Mr. James O. Golden
2139 R Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C.

Dear Jim:

Bryce Harlow forwarded on to me your memorandum of January 2nd. I am certainly aware of the problems Bebe is having in Florida and, needless to say, all of us have somewhat the same troubles. I am afraid though that this is not a matter in which we can legitimately provide staff assistance.

RN is extremely anxious that we not build up a staff at Key Biscayne, and I think he would be very disturbed at the thought of any move such as you suggest being undertaken.

I will, however, review this because maybe there is some way to work the thing out and probably will eventually have to be done. In the meantime, I wouldn't hold out much hope for the specific assignment that you suggested.

I know your name is under consideration for other assignments as a result of your having filed your resume here sometime ago.

Look forward to seeing you at the inauguration.

Cordially,

H. R. Haldeman

From: Jim Golden

*Bob Haldeman - maybe Bebe has mentioned this to you - ? In any case, here it is!
Bryce*

Pursuant to our conversation today, I would appreciate very much your forwarding the following suggestion to Bob Haldeman in New York.

RN may not be aware of the fact that since his election a considerable amount of pressure has been building up in Key Biscayne consisting of phone calls, mail and personal visits of individuals seeking favors of Bebe Rebozo and his personal intervention with officials of the incoming Administration. Bebe himself would never mention this to RN, but I have elicited this from him in recent conversations and had it verified while talking with Shelley Scarney this week, as he had mentioned it to her. The existing situation is causing him problems with his own staff at present, and it will get worse, I'm sure. I personally feel that an individual with an intimate knowledge of the family, staff and Bebe should be appointed as a Special Assistant to one of the Assistants to the President and be permanently assigned to the Summer White House at Key Biscayne where he could act as a buffer for Bebe and take care of some of the administrative and general duties surrounding the Summer White House.

In view of my personal friendship with Bebe and the others involved, I would like to volunteer my services for such a position. My resume was submitted to the Hotel Pierre group some three weeks ago should you care to look at it.

Dear Dick:

While the tempest in the teapot rages, I want to congratulate you for your master-stroke and keen perception in your selection of Governor Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland.

Ted Agnew by his forthright acts and utterances as Governor has won my respect and admiration, as he has yours, since I first came to Maryland two years ago to help move War*-materiel and supplies to our fighting men in Vietnam.

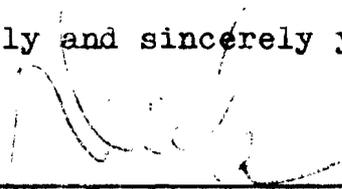

He is a patriot, straightforward, courageous, sensitive and friendly. He is thoroughly capable. He is articulate and a master of the give-and-take at a Press Conference. In addition, he is photogenic. Although he has a good legal mind, he applies the principles of fairness and ordinary good common sense to his decisions.

As an object lesson to the rest of us, he comes from a minority ethnic group, the Greek, who worked their way out of poverty in this country through their own efforts and by the sweat of their brows.

As a middle-of-the-road American I am glad to see a man of Ted Agnew's caliber and potential recognized and put to work in the national interest.

Kindest personal regards and best wishes.

PAGE 2, SECTION 3 WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1967

• Irreverend, Says H. Dick Golding

I protest as a Catholic . . . James Groppi's irreverend actions as a priest. He has created the false impression that Catholics at large support him. Well, we most certainly do not! We need law and order in this country, not riots!

His continuous nightly marches by Negroes into an all white community will not solve his problem but only aggravate it. It is explosively dangerous and will ultimately provoke and lead to violence, death, and destruction.

Having been born a Catholic and educated in its private schools, I have a tremendous respect for the Catholic Church, its teachings, its clergy and its religious institutions. Needless to say, I have no respect for Groppi or his afraid-to-act archbishop who to date has failed to act unequivocally, while the good name of the Catholic Church and the laity is maligned and prostituted by a misguided fanatic. If he wants to jump into the muck of politics he owes it to us to first remove his priestly robes . . .

BILLY GRAHAM

November 29, 1968

Dear Bob:

Congratulations on your appointment! I doubt if the White House has ever had such efficient management as you will bring. I have watched with growing admiration your tremendous ability.

I have read in the press that you and the other members of the staff are looking for various names for offices in the new administration. Naturally, like many of Mr. Nixon's friends, I have many people who have come to me wanting me to pass on their names. I have told each of them that I am not going to use my personal friendship to try and get a job for anybody.

However, there are three of my acquaintances that I think may be helpful in their respective fields. Not one of these has approached me, and the idea of passing on their names is totally mine.

The first is Mr. Dan Liu, Chief of Police of Honolulu. Look magazine recently said that he has the most incorruptible police force in the United States. He has been a professor at the FBI Academy in Washington. In my work I am thrown very closely with police officers, and I believe he runs the finest police force in the United States. He has been Chief of Police in Honolulu for more than twenty years, and recently when a Honolulu newspaper ran a poll to try to find out the most popular man in the Islands Chief Liu won by a landslide. I believe he would be an excellent consideration for a high post in law enforcement. The fact that he is Chinese might also be helpful in race relations.

Secondly, Dr. Carlos Lastra, the chancellor of the Pan American University in San Juan, Puerto Rico. In my travels through Latin America, I have found he knows more about the economic and political situation throughout Latin America than any other person. He is young, dynamic and deeply committed to solving the problems of Latin America. He has his PhD. in economics from Harvard. I once told his story to Mr. Nixon and Mr. Nixon said: "He's the kind of man I'm looking for." In my judgment he would be an ideal man as an undersecretary of state for Latin America.

Thirdly, Mr. David McConnell, who is presently United States Delegate with the rank of Ambassador to the United Nations Economic and Social Council, is one of the great tax authorities in the United States. Some of our tax laws were actually written by him. President Johnson came very close to appointing him Director of Internal Revenue. I am enclosing some biographical notes on Mr. McConnell. One of the reasons I am taking the liberty of recommending Mr. McConnell is that he supported Mr. Nixon in the election although he is one of the Democratic leaders of the state of North Carolina. Perhaps you could re-appoint him to his present post.

Bob, I can vouch for the personal character of each one of these three people and would deeply appreciate your putting their names in the hopper for serious consideration.

With warmest appreciation for all you mean to the future of the country, I am

Dear Mr. Haldeman:

Our mutual and good friend Jim Gillies, formerly of the University of California, has written you on my behalf -- to ask if I can have a brief interview with President-Elect Nixon, hopefully before Inauguration Day.

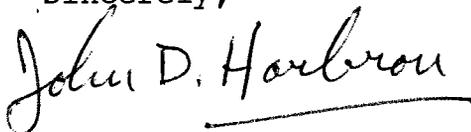

The content of the interview would be restricted to Canadian-American relations and comment from Mr. Nixon, even if in a general form, on an aspect of his forthcoming administration which we in Canada are very keen to hear about.

While I can realize how extremely pressed for time the President-Elect must be, my own interest in having him on the record at this time relates to my years as Canadian Editor for Business Week in New York during the Eisenhower Administration, when the Canadian financial and business communities were always eager to know the intentions of a Republican President.

Could you write or call (416) 367-4676 at your early convenience.

All best wishes for the New Year.

Dear Bob,

Several items for your consideration:

1. The enclosed photographs of the President-elect arrived from an unknown source with no note of explanation. They may be expected by some staff member, possibly Erlichman. Please check this out.

2. Attached is the resume you gave me on Lieutenant Kelley together with a photograph. As we discussed, I have reviewed his records and they are good. However, he is not senior or experienced enough to be the Navy's representative on the White House Staff. Nevertheless, if it is decided that he should be selected and used in the White House, I will be glad to carry him on my rolls as an over-age and, in fact, would have no difficulty finding appropriate employment. I will leave this in your good hands.

3. Reference SEAVIEW, I think the Navy has done a fine job in surveying the site and they are now preparing an architect's rendering of the residence in its natural setting. Even though this will be a "modest" residence, the cost associated with the overall project will be substantial although not unmanageable from my standpoint. I propose to have RN consider the architect's rendering to get his approval of the concept and to press on from there. I will keep you informed.

4. You asked about medical services for Cabinet Officers. Attached is the basis for providing medical services for former Presidents and this document also serves as a source of authority for providing medical services by the military to other persons, including Cabinet Officers. I have another paper being prepared on the subject which I will send to you, but this should serve as a starter. In essence, the Secretary of each Service has the authority to offer whatever medical services he desires to the Cabinet Officers. It would seem, therefore, that this may be worked out as an internal Cabinet matter or I can handle it for you.

With all good wishes,

JAMES D. HUGHES
Colonel, USAF
Armed Forces Aide
to the President-elect
