PRESIDENTIAL STATEMENT: DEDICATION OF AMERICAN MUSEUM
OF IMMIGRATION, LIBERTY ISLAND, NEW YORK, September 26, 1972.

Speaking about the nature of our country, President Eisenhower once said that America "is best described by one word, freedom."

It is especially appropriate that we recall that description as we dedicate the American Museum of Immigration, at the base of this great national monument.

The idea for this museum was born in 1954, when a group of citizens met with President Eisenhower to suggest a permanent memorial to the millions of immigrants who came to these shores in search of freedom.

Now, eighteen years later, the museum is a reality. And for one who served with President Eisenhower, as I did, this occasion has a double meaning. We are witnessing today the completion of something that meant a great deal to a great American, President Eisenhower. And we are also paying tribute to millions of other American heroes -- many of those names may be forgotten but whose vision and sacrifice have added so much to our American heritage.

In dedicating this museum, we mark the fact that ours is a nation of many nations -- that, uniquely among all the nations of the world, ours draws its people from every continent, from every corner of the world -- and what we have and what we are today is the result of what they brought to these shores.

So we dedicate this museum, not to a dead chapter of our history, but to a living ideal. The displays inside this building will remind us and our descendants of where many of our people came from. Every facet of American life today is filled with examples of what they did when they got here; of what they added to America, and of how they strengthened and enriched all of our lives, and continue to do so today.

The skyscrapers that dot the skyline of New York City; the railroads that connect the continent; the industrial might of modern America -- all of these are the work of immigrants and of the descendants of immigrants. All of these are monuments to the strong hearts and hands of ~~Irishmen, Blacks, Italians, Germans, Poles, Jews,~~ men + women from all ~~these~~ ^{nationalities}, all ~~nations, & all races, & all religions who~~ ^{nationalities, & all races, & all religions who} ~~Oriental and the many other groups that~~ came here and became proud Americans. The walls of this museum, even if they were a hundred times this size, could not begin to house the full story of their contributions -- yet it is a story that must and shall be told, especially now, as we complete our second century as a Nation and prepare to celebrate our bicentennial.

America has often been called a melting pot, perhaps because it has forged the cultures and traditions of many lands into a strong new alloy -- an American alloy. But let us never forget that one of the finest things about our country is that it does not force its people into a narrow mold of conformity. America is a rich mosaic of many cultures and traditions, strong in its diversity. Each new immigrant has added another piece to the mosaic of American life -- a fresh perspective and a fresh appreciation of what it means to be an American.

Edouard de Laboulaye, the French patriot who inspired the idea for the Statue of Liberty and who persuaded the sculptor Bartholdi to create it, looked upon the monument not only as a symbol of the love for freedom shared by the French and American people, but as a monument to the spirit of freedom itself -- a spirit that beats in the hearts of people everywhere.

The words he used to describe the Statue of Liberty should also serve to describe this museum we dedicate today: "...a symbol that braves the storms of time. It will stand unshaken in the midst of the winds that roar about its head and the waves that shatter at its feet."

The American ideal has also braved the storms of time. And it always will, as long as we keep alive the spark of freedom, ambition, opportunity and self-respect; as long as we keep alive the faith and the commitment that transformed the poor, the oppressed and the down-trodden of the earth into proud, free citizens of the United States.

RECOMMENDED TELEPHONE CALL

TO:

Gene Vaughn
Pan Am Airline Captain

RECOMMENDED BY:

Chuck Colson

PURPOSE:

To congratulate him on his alertness and courage in foiling the attempts of a Vietnamese hijacker to divert his Saigon-bound airliner and 153 passengers to Hanoi.

BACKGROUND:

Forty-five minutes out of Manila, on the 2-hour run to Saigon, a South Vietnamese student attempted to hijack Pan Am Flight 841. He demanded that the pilot divert to Hanoi, Captain Vaughn told the hijacker that there was not enough fuel to get to Hanoi and that he would have to stop in Saigon. Simultaneously, he dropped the jet to a 4000-ft. altitude to minimize the decompression effects should there be an explosion.

Upon landing in Saigon, Captain Vaughn told the military control tower that under no circumstances was the aircraft to be allowed to depart. Vaughn had already made up his mind to resist.

Earlier, prior to the flight's initial takeoff from San Francisco, a retired policeman going to work for an American company in Saigon gave his .357 Magnum pistol to the pilot for safekeeping ... as is customary in such cases. So, while on the ground at Saigon, Vaughn had the pistol returned to the policeman surreptitiously. Moments later, he told the hijacker that he was having trouble understanding him -- and asked him to come a bit closer. At the proper moment he grabbed the slightly-built youth and shouted to the retired policeman, "Shoot the son of a bitch". The unidentified policeman willingly complied. He fired 5 times and killed the hijacker. "Then, said Vaughn at a press conference later, "I took the fellow by the back of the neck and threw him out of the aircraft like a football. He was already dead. "I just couldn't stand to have him in my airplane. "

TALKING POINTS:

1. I want to congratulate you on your alertness and courage.
2. Your example should go far toward deterring would-be hijackers.
3. We might have had another Pueblo incident on our hands.

RECOMMENDED TELEPHONE CALL

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN... [Handwritten mark]

TO: Dr. Joseph Harrison Jackson
President, National Baptist Convention USA, Inc.
Location: Sheraton Hotel - Fort Worth, Texas
817 332-3151

RECOMMENDED BY: Ron Ziegler RZ (C. Colson and B. Brown concur)

BACKGROUND: Dr. Joseph Harrison Jackson, President of the National Baptist Convention USA, Inc., the largest black organization in America (5 million) last night and today again endorsed you for President at the National Baptist Convention in Fort Worth, Texas. Dr. Jackson, who is pastor of the historic Mt. Oliver Baptist Church in Chicago, also endorsed you in 1968.

Couldn't reach him

Jackson is a Democrat, highly thought of by President Johnson, the party and the black community. He denounced McGovern for permitting "trusted and respectable members of a party to be cut out of a Democratic National Convention," and said in his endorsement of you:

"Mr. Nixon has not done everything we have wished him to do, but I think what he has done has been good for the country."

Jackson received a standing ovation from the 21,000 black delegation. It is also ironic to note that the endorsement came the day of McGovern's visit to Dallas.

Because of his strong ties with the Democratic Party, Bob Brown feels Jackson is a very definite plus in supporting your re-election. Incidentally, Bob will be going to Fort Worth tomorrow to attend the Convention.

Since the media has given limited recognition to black endorsement of you, I feel that a phone call will serve to demonstrate our real appreciation of his political support.

TALKING POINT: Your support always means a great deal to me -- and I want to thank you for your public appearances and other activities in my behalf.

TELEPHONE CALL RECOMMENDATION

TO: AL KALINE
Detroit Tigers

RECOMMENDED BY: HENRY C. CASHEN II

He

(Colson's circus)

PURPOSE: On Tuesday, October 3, the Detroit Tigers clinched the title for the Eastern Division in the American League. Al Kaline, who has been a long-time supporter and campaigner for you, had probably the most tremendous finish of his career during a regular season. Over the past several weeks he has hit over 500 and was a tremendous inspiration for the Tigers' strong finish. He is the most seasoned veteran in the American League.

Kaline campaigned hard in 1968 and has agreed to do the same whenever possible before the 1972 election.

TALKING POINTS:

1. That you congratulate him on his tremendous finish in leading the Tigers to the Eastern Division title in the American League.
2. That you were glad to read that it was Kaline who made the final output that clinched the title for the Tigers.
3. Express your appreciation for his help in the past and indicate that you hope that you will see him during the campaign.

As you know we are to send watches to N. R. and those who secured the nomination. (The watch is probably for men - but it is ~~small~~ small enough for women too)

In addition I want a Certificate of Appreciation to go to all who participated in the convention. Be generous in this - cover all speakers, presiders - musical organization + those who appeared at the Youth Rally + other events.

This may run to a hundred or so - but it is by far the easiest way for us to show appreciation, after all if we do it for other appearances we should do it for the convention -

In addition - will you give me the names of 5 or 6 who worked in arrangements + who deserve a call - even though they were not publicized at the convention.

|| To Certificate of appreciation
with grateful appreciation for {his} {her}
Contribution to the success of the 1972
Democratic Convention

RATIONALE OF NEW ORGANIZATION

1. _____ It is the President's policy that insofar as possible all interdepartmental and inter agency issues should be resolved by the principal Secretaries and not the White House
2. _____ The President wishes to vest in the five "Assistants to the President" line functions which equivalent Assistants did not have in the first term. They will be called on to make management and policy decisions without reference to the President in accordance with guidelines which the President will establish. The five Assistants to the President will be expected to act as vice principals in relation to the Department Secretaries. That is, they will act on the President's behalf.
3. _____ A Cabinet Secretary should not be encouraged to anticipate either free access or frequent consultation with the President. Rather, his views will be transmitted to the President either in writing or via a principal secretary or Assistant depending on the nature of the matter.
4. _____ Cabinet secretaries will be requested to delegate to principal secretaries substantial authority concerning the operation of their Departments. This delegation will be express and precise and, in each case, will be made in advance.
5. _____ Control over selection of personnel will be retained by the President and delegated from time to time to his Assistants and particularly the Director of the OMB.

H. Conrad & President:

Council - Court recognition 8 years -

 @ Follow up with Congress

 L.B.J.'s Mandate

6. _____ Policy proposals originating in the Departments will first be reviewed by the Assistant having jurisdiction and may be referred to the appropriate policy council before final decisions of the Assistant on the question of referring to the President.
7. _____ The essence of the new organization is the concept that secretaries and principal secretaries are the President's men and not the creatures of their departments. Every Cabinet officer must strive to retain this cardinal orientation. Every appointee of Cabinet rank will be expected to be the President's man in the Department and not the Department's advocate to the President.
8. _____ Cabinet meetings will be rare. Cabinet officers will be expected to act in concert with their colleagues in policy groups and policy councils as well as in informal ad hoc committees in the resolution of common problems and the preparation of proposals of common interest.
9. _____ Each Cabinet officer should be reminded that all policy decisions in the Executive branch are reserved to the President ultimately. All Cabinet officers and other Presidential appointees have derivative capacity only. Thus, no decision making power resides in any policy group, policy council, in any Secretary, principal Secretary or Assistant except as expressly delegated by the President. In the absence of expressed delegation it must be assumed that the President personally will make the ultimate decision.

Except as prescribed by statute,

COUNTERPART ORGANIZATIONS

1. _____ Public affairs, Congressional relations, General Counsel and personnel organizations within the Departments will be coordinated by and answerable to their White House counterparts as well as to their department and agency heads.

It will be the responsibility of the respective Assistants to the President to insure fidelity to this organizational concept.

MISCELLANEOUS

1. _____ Cabinet Secretaries and agency heads will be held accountable for unauthorized disclosure of information and documents. Each should immediately institute procedures to insure the integrity of classified and confidential information.

2. _____ In the case of the principal secretaries, particularly, and to a lesser extent in other departments, the Under Secretaries or Deputy Secretaries will play increasingly important roles. Cabinet Secretaries will be expected to vest in their Number Two men broad capacity to operate and manage the department. (In the past some problems have been encountered where department or agency heads have interposed themselves between Under Secretaries and the White House).

3. _____ All department and agency heads will be expected to make the required showing concerning conflict of interest regardless of previous clearance. The Counsel to the President, John Dean, should be contacted immediately in order that announcements of appointment are not unduly delayed.

Each appointee will be contacted by Bill Timmons in the near future regarding confirmation strategy and timing. It is contemplated that all nominations will go forward to the Congress on January 3, 1973.

4.  _____ It is expected that in the new term a more careful regulation of government travel expenses will be instituted by the OEM. Some Cabinet officers have had the custom of employing government owned aircraft for travel. Where departments own or control aircraft it is proposed that prior OEM clearance will be required for such use in the future.

RECOMMENDED TELEPHONE CALL

TO: Dr. Gilbert Klaperman, Rabbi
Congregation Beth Sholom
Lawrence, New York

RECOMMENDED BY: Henry C. Cashen, II (Colson concurs)

BACKGROUND: Dr. Klaperman is a very prominent New York Rabbi who recently wrote to you on August 22 indicating his strong support for your re-election. The Rabbi is past President of the New York Board of Rabbis, is Chairman of the Board of the Emet World Academy in Jerusalem, and presently Chairman of the Greater New York Conference on Soviet Jewry.

He is very influential in the Jewish community throughout the United States; but as I indicated, he is a very strong advocate for the Jewish community on behalf of the release of Soviet Jews.

He will be addressing a group of between 5 to 10 thousand Jews in the garment district of New York City on Wednesday, August 30, at 12:00 noon EDT

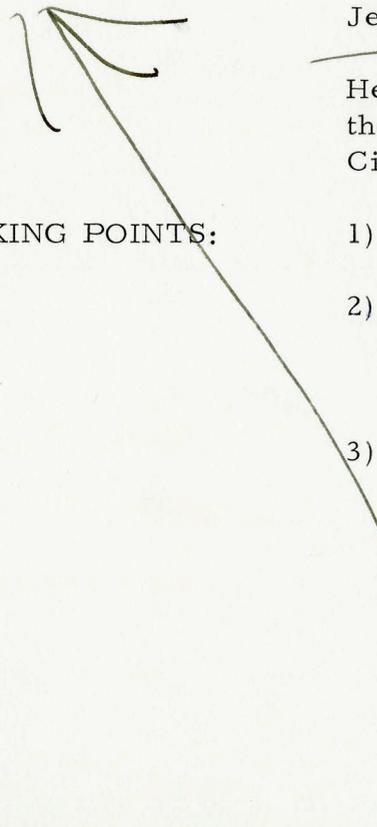

TALKING POINTS:

- 1) Thank him for his letter of support.
- 2) Congratulate him on the great job he is doing in representing the religious interests of the Jewish community.

- 3) Indicate your hope that he will continue to work with the Administration in achieving human rights on behalf of Soviet Jewry.

(It is recommended by the National Security Council that you avoid any personal indication on your part to intervene on behalf of the Russian Jews. The Rabbi will probably push for some sort of a personal commitment from you, but even without this a telephone call will be most helpful to his cause in openly and actively supporting your re-election.)
